During the past year, the restoration of the Statue of Liberty was undertaken by several private companies and individuals using the theme "Keep the Torch Lit."

Here at Catalina, this theme is also appropriate in similar ways: because of declining enrollment, several steps have been taken to reconstruct the curriculum of the school in order to improve the quality of education offered to the students. One step is the implementation of the Humanities option program which gives students an opportunity to learn about English and Social Studies in a different manner in that, through a progression of four years, they study a chronological development of civilization and mankind throughout history.

Another new idea was the switch to a computer to keep track of attendance, which enabled the administration to catch the people who ditch class constantly.

The improved sports teams helped revive the spirit among the student body. The girls team finished with a 20-1 record. The boys soccer team has a 9-2 record, while the girls' team won the state championship. The boys basketball team (23-6) placed second in state and the girls softball team finished third.

Academically, several individuals achieved high honors this past year. Seniors David Randolph, Degan Michaels, and Shelley Harris were chosen as semi-finalists in the NMSQT. Shelley Harris and David Randolph went on to be finalists. The Academic Deathlon team finished seventh in the Pima County Contest and won a trophy for placing third in the Super Quiz category.

With the help of the students' spirit, the combination of these factors have kept the TORCH lit at Catalina.

Our newest member in attendance this year was Kermit.

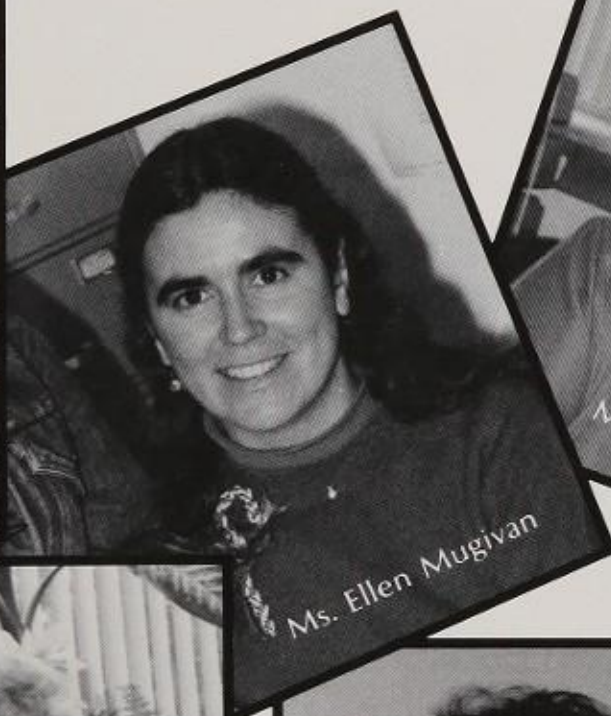

For those of you who don't know about Kermit, he was installed as the attendance program. In the morning, all of the teachers were given a scan sheet which they filled out, indicating absences. The scan sheet then ran through the scanner into the computer. All notes or phone calls for reason of absence were printed into the computer when they came in so that the information was accurate. Teachers received a weekly print-out of all absences, and if parents wanted to know what days their children missed, Kermit printed out a sheet for them too.

If teachers marked the students absent, the ones who ditched usually were caught, but one of the biggest problems was that student aides who took attendance did not always mark everyone absent, so a lot of students did not get caught. In some ways last year's policy was better, because the attendance cards were available at any time, and now the person who ran Kermit is the only one with access to the computer, and she's not always available to check for people. Kermit added more work, but was also more accurate, if the teachers did their part.

COUNSELORS ASSIST STUDENTS

During the school year, the counselors assisted students in many ways, which included crisis counseling, help with family problems, and teacher-student problems. They also helped students with rescheduling their classes.

Gene Dineen was added to the staff. He has been called "this year's asset", by Ann Stephens. Dineen, a three year placement counselor, has been counseling for over 14 years. He said, "I love it here, I've noticed a great rapport with faculty and students."

For the first year the counselors were assigned to just one class instead of having a mixture of students from all classes. Ann Stephens, senior class counselor, has been counseling for 22 years, 13 at Catalina. She has written hundreds of college recommendations. John Reynolds, sophomore counselor took the place of Bob Sheuneman. Sally Soike in charge of the freshman has been counseling for 5 years at our school. She said that "they'll get better."

The counselors workload was cut in half when the computer system, Kermit, was introduced. This made it possible for the four counselors to spend 5 hours in each class per semester.

TUSD

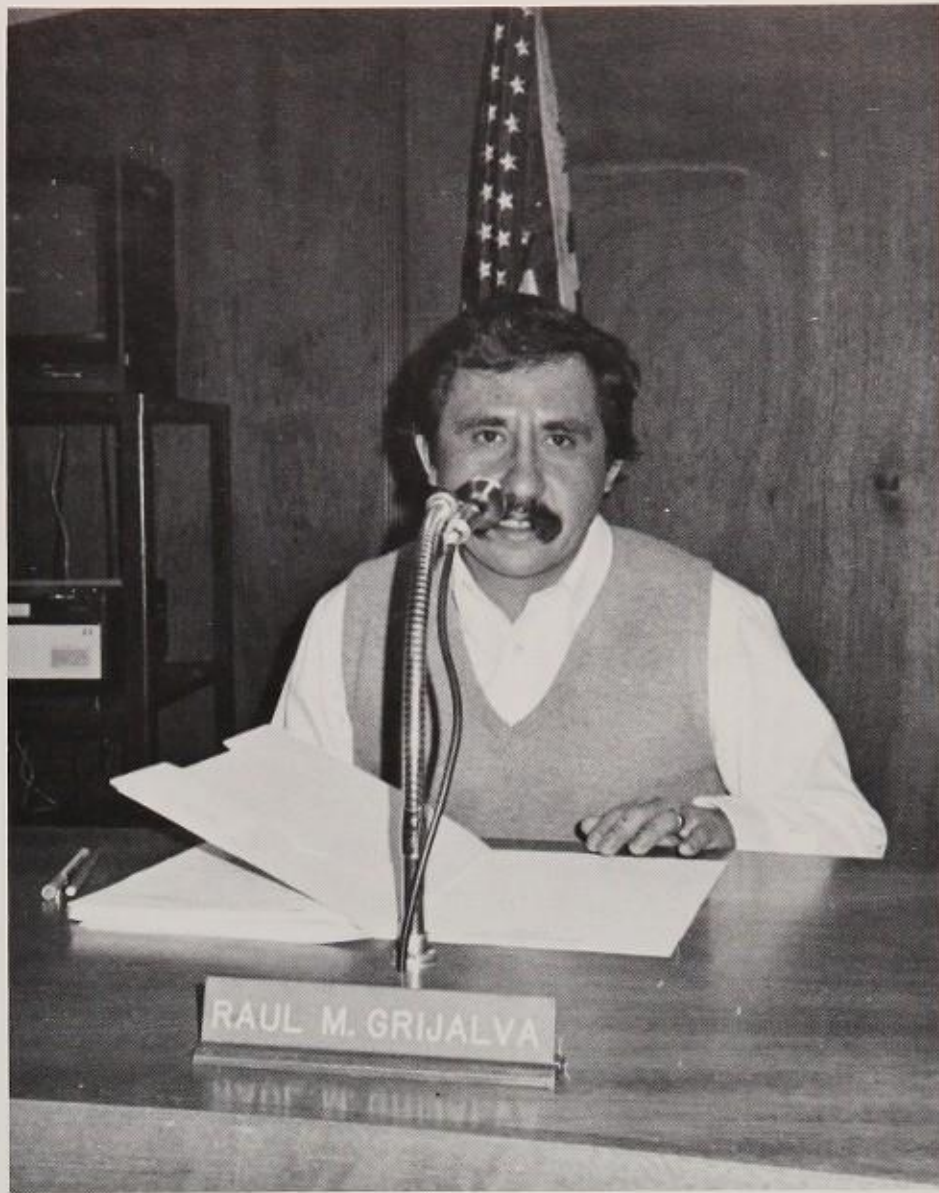

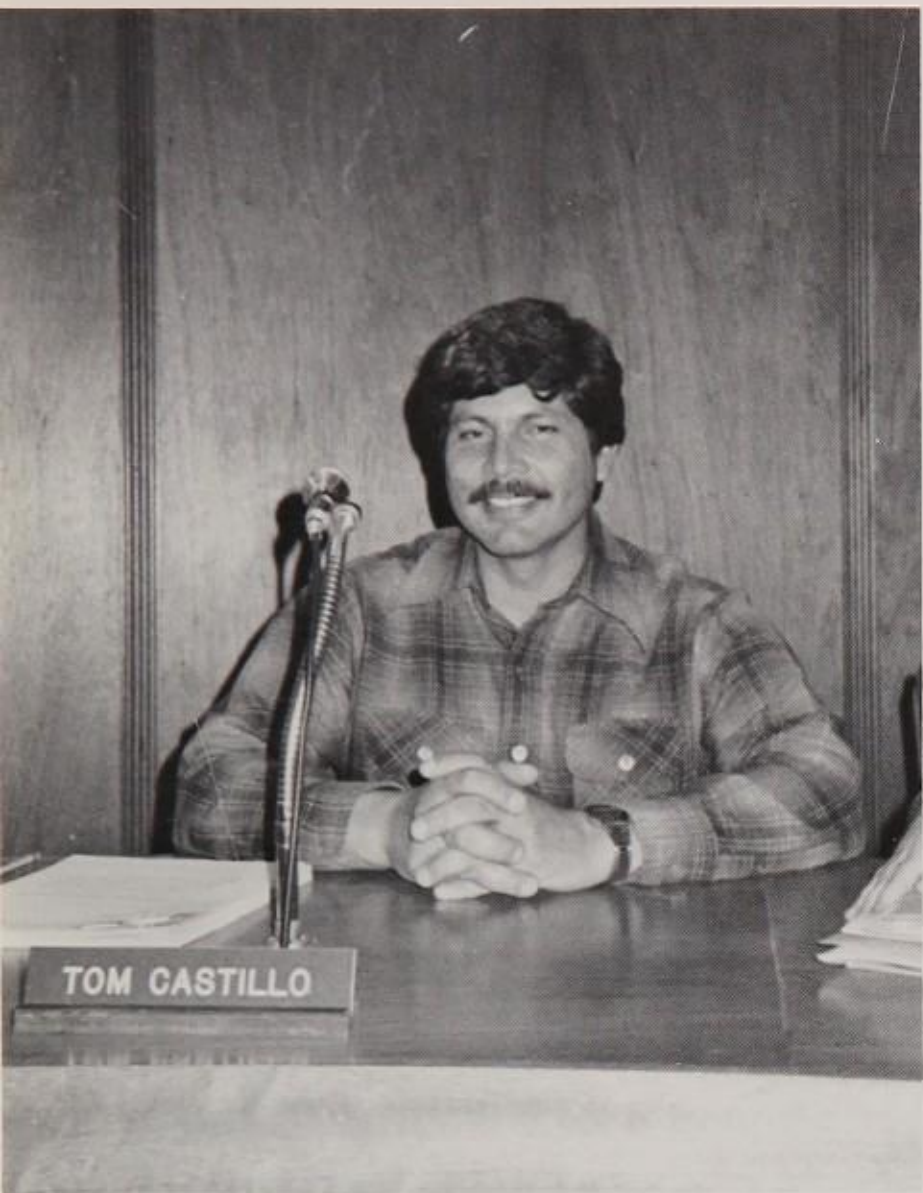

DR. GRANT RESIGNS

In February, Dr. Merrill Grant resigned at TUSD Superintendent.

As a result, Dorothy Maggett was named temporary Superintendent. Some board members felt that she was qualified to be permanent Superintendent. On the other hand, some felt that it would be more beneficial to comb the country to find the most qualified candidate.

TUSD was one of few public school systems to be praised by the United States Department of Education for their excellent leadership on the school board. The board was recognized for using some of the recommendations written in "A Nation at Risk" by the NCEE in an announcement from Washington D.C.

Some of the new programs included the Adopt-A-School program which linked the business community with the school system, and The Tucson Educational Enrichment Fund which donates money given by companies and private individuals to assist teachers in special learning projects. By Deborah Soehl

AUXILIARY SERVICES THEY GET NO RESPECT

What would happen if there were no auxiliary services?

There would probably be no school without them. They were as much a part of CHS as teachers, football games, and report cards.

The custodians, often seen around campus mainly kept our school clean and fixed various objects.

The lunch ladies worked at the counter preparing food, and doing their best to keep the lines quick and easy.

Engineers maintained all the facilities, using their technical experience to keep everything operational.

The groundsmen worked at keeping all the sports fields playable, and the campus looking trim and green.

The bookstore personnel handled money matters, such as playing sports and selling and buying back books.

All these people kept CHS running, were very over-worked. We want them to know we appreciated their effort.

ART
AWARDS WON BY BUDDING ARTISTS

Art teachers Martin Davis and Robert Reynolds.

In the Pima Community College Art Show, three students gained local recognition, including Tina Single, Bastien Moeckli, and Roberta Aylward.

Aylward won the top award, which was a scholarship to Pima CC, but could not accept it because she was a Junior. (Cash awards could only go to Seniors.) Photos of these works appear in other parts of this year's Torch.

Robert Reynolds joined Marty Davis as an Art Teacher this year. He came by way of Palo Verde and Rincon High Schools. Reynolds was an Industrial Arts teacher at those schools for 12 years. He was originally an Art major when he first started college. Reynolds said, "I enjoy teaching Art very much. It's kind of like coming home after a long absence." In addition to Art he also taught Electronics and was advisor for the '84-'85 Torch. He summed up his year at Catalina saying, "Catalina had really been good for me, but it has been difficult spread between so many disciplines."

Mr. Davis arranged for Artist Pam Marks to work with the classes at Catalina to try to gain an appreciation of the profession. Davis said, "Things really went well in the Artists-in-Education program. We will most likely do it again next year."

BAND MARCHING TROJANS TRIP OUT

Being in Honolulu, Hawaii on June 9, 1984 was like a dream come true for most, but hearing the words "... and now ladies and gentlemen all the way from Tucson, Arizona, here is the Catalina High School Marching Band!" was an honor experienced by all.

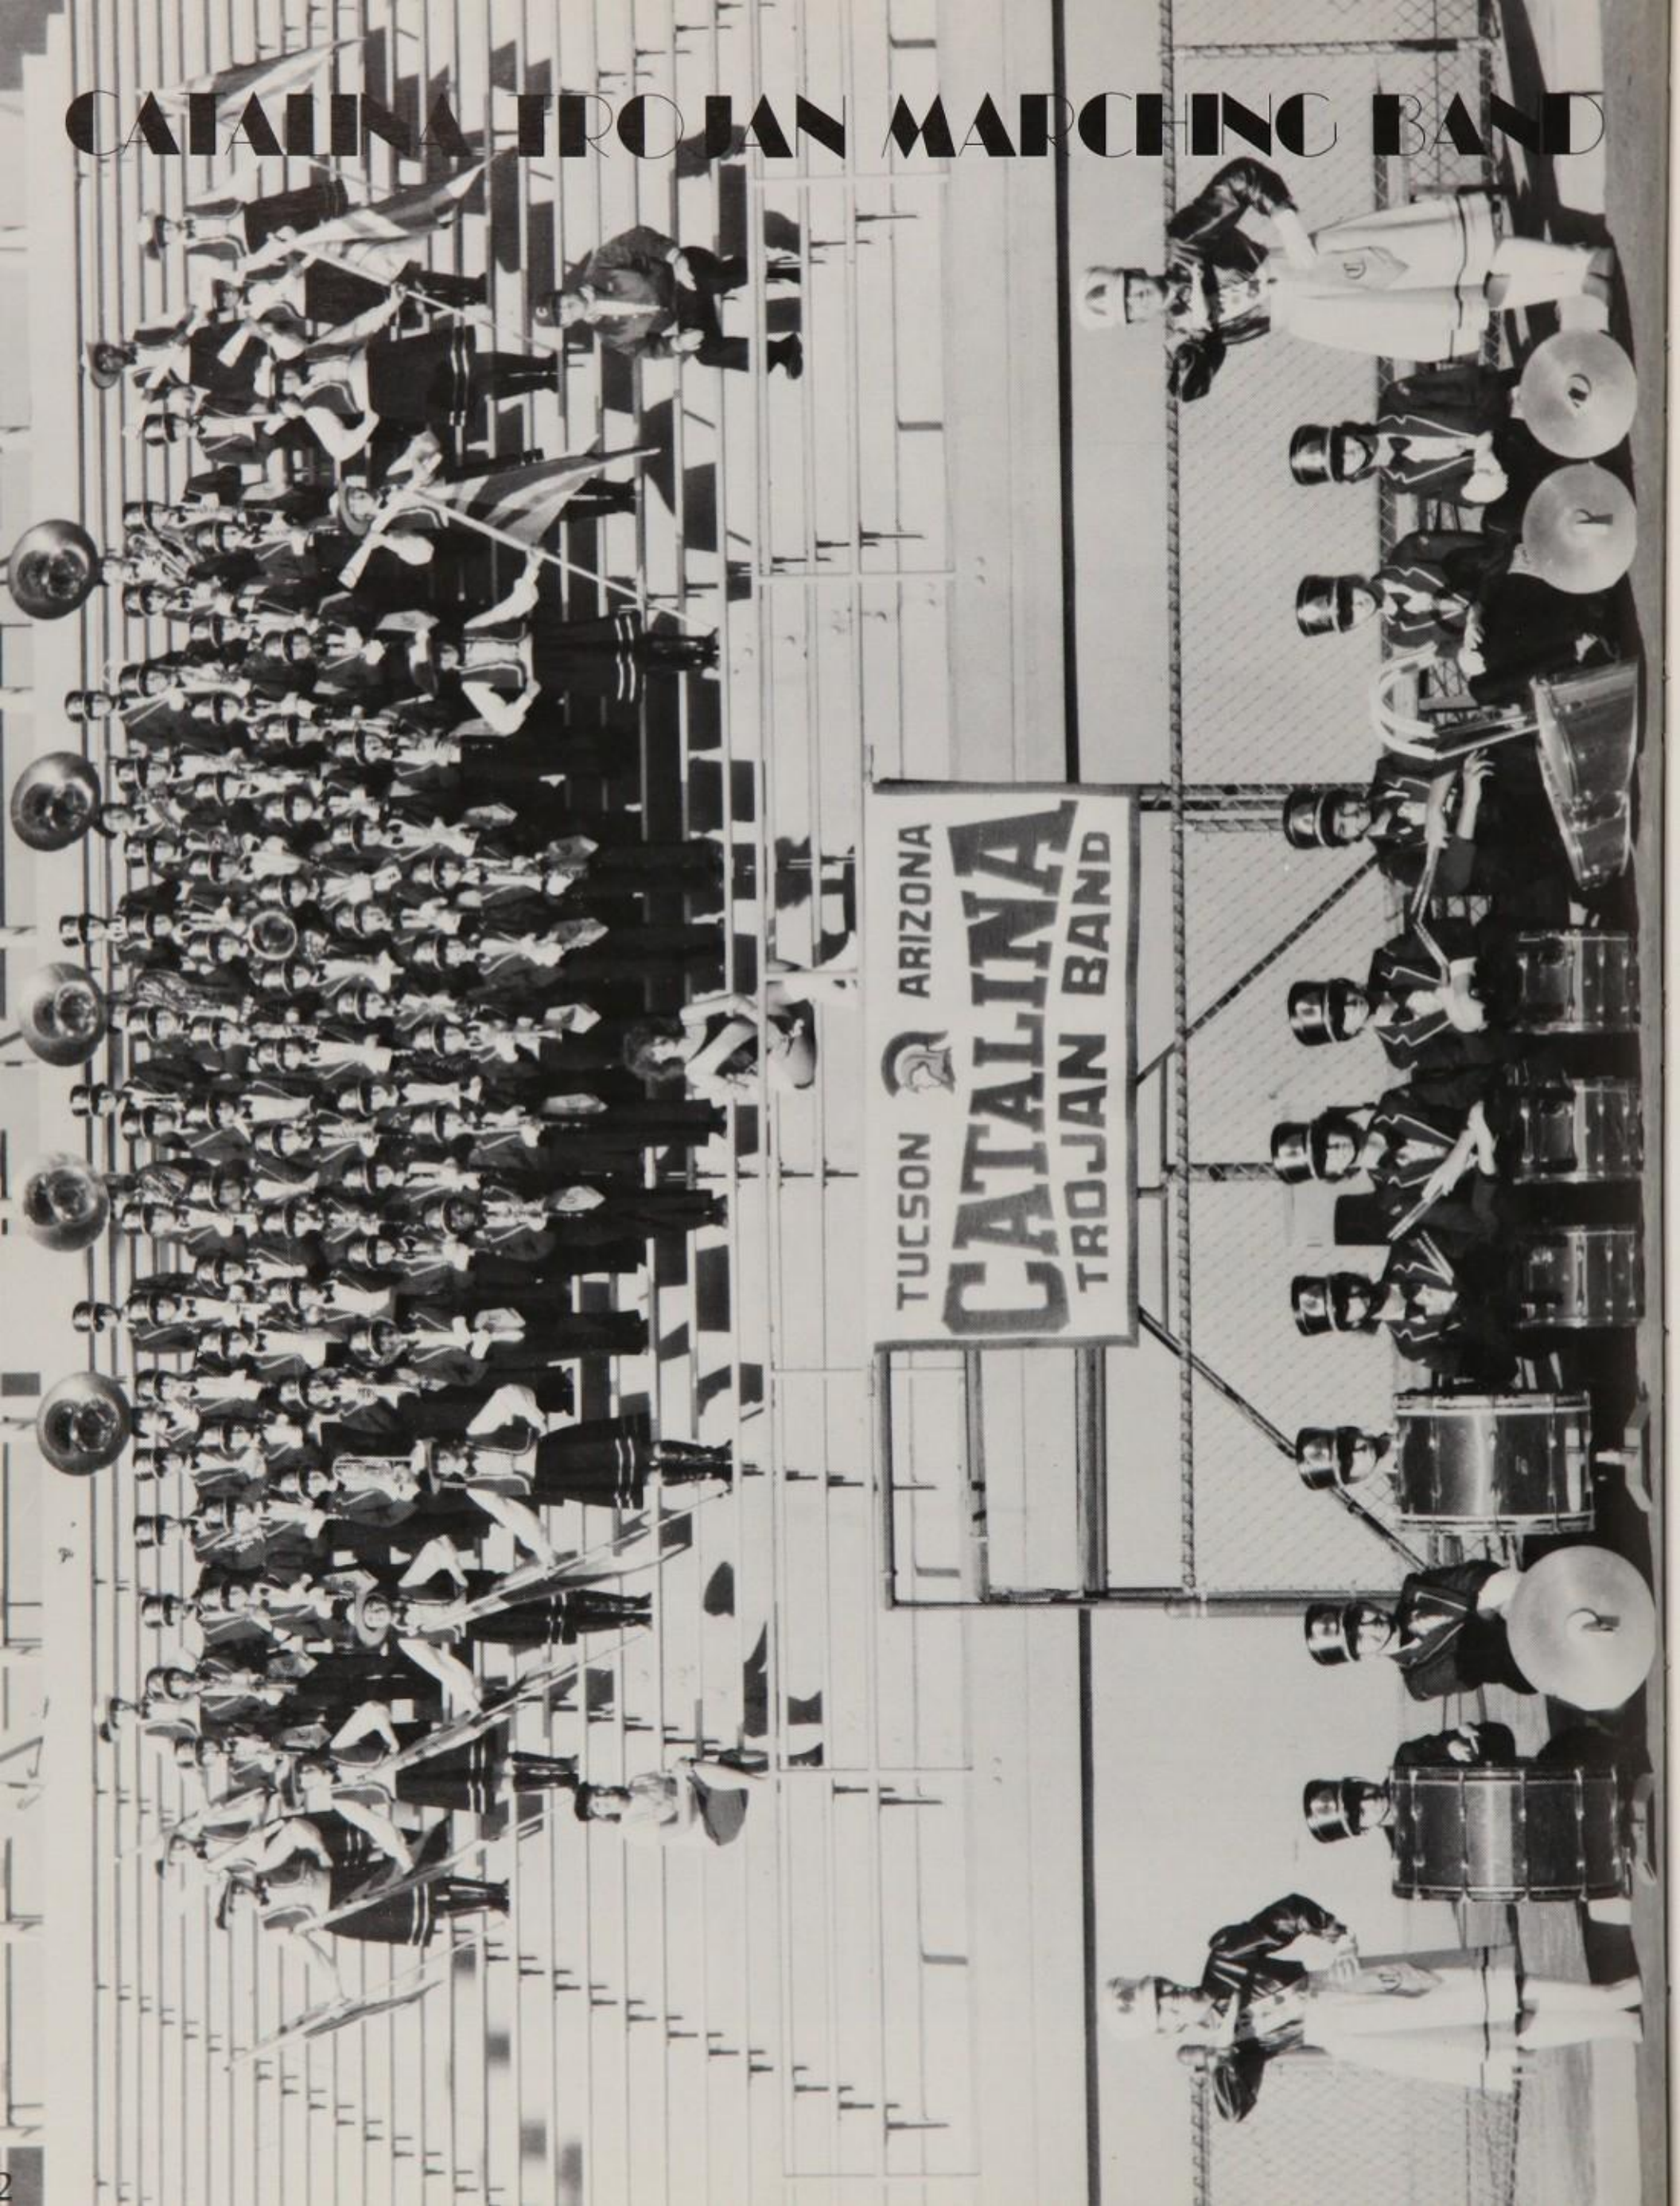

For the 1983-84 tour, the Marching band embarked on a two week trip to Oahu to participate in the King Kamehameha Day Parade. The parade route was 4.5 miles long and was unfortunately held on a very hot day. One band member commented,

"There were people falling out all over the place." But when asked whether she would or would not do it again, sophomore Charlene Saturley stated bluntly "I'd jump at the chance!"

Highlights of the trip included Disneyland and spending the night at L.A. Airport, and then it was on to Hawaii, where they stayed at the Wakiki-Malia. Other activities included "Burning at Wakiki Beach", a bus tour of the Island of Oahu, gazing at the extinct Diamond Head Volcano, a luau, and a private beach party.

Keeping The Business End Up

Keeping the business end up was a difficult task to accomplish, but nevertheless it was done so that our kids could enjoy the benefits of learning office and clerical skills. These skills were necessary in our fast-paced, mechanized world and were taught on a broad scale. Unfortunately, the importance of such a department was underestimated by our school.

Last year, despite the money crunch which affected everyone, the Business Education department still managed to have one of it's best years. As Ms. Claudette Welch stated when interviewed, "Class participation was high, and the students were just great. Also, there was more of an effort to maintain the buildings and equipment." She also said that she hoped more of an effort would be made to give teachers classes they're qualified to teach.

The students played a role in keeping the business end up as well. They participated in activities such as the DECA canned food drive, and selling candy. Business Education classes consisted of Typing I & II, Accounting, Computers Basic & Fortran, COE, DECA, Shorthand, and Advanced Word Processing. Enrollment was highest in computers and lowest in shorthand with a decline after the first semester.

Finally, the department had some long range plans. They hoped that they could have obtained one more teacher. "An extra teacher," said Mr. Harper, "would have allowed the dept. to expand and offer a wider range of classes with greater flexibility and less work load." Also, they hoped to convince the school to keep updating the computers and other equipment. Which, almost had to be replaced after the computer theft and recovery. Despite, all that happened the staff members hoped that they did what they did best, keeping the business end up.

CHOIRS

ALIVE WITH THE "SOUND OF MUSIC"

With 196 students enrolled, the Catalina choirs excelled to great heights this year.

The many performances including Fall, Winter, Young Performers, Minstrels of Troy/Jazz ensemble and Spring Patio concerts were highlighted by the choirs production of "The Sound of Music," in which approximately 100 choir members were involved. According to choir director Craig Plotner, the Sound of Music was chosen as this years production because of its widespread appeal, great music, and beautiful storyline. Johanna Flashcka and Patti Vaterlaus were the lead characters (Maria Rainer) in their respective casts.

FUNDRAISERS SUPPORT PRODUCTIONS

Several fundraisers were held this year to support the choirs many productions. Selling items such as cheese, sausage, and various decorative items the choirs managed to raise enough money to support the many excellent performances. Student representatives president Angie Haymore, vice-president Chris Costa, secretary Katy Rutter, and treasurer Robert Mammana helped to organize the fundraising events. The choirs consisted of many different levels which corresponded with the abilities of students ranging from beginning boys and girls to Minstrels of Troy.

The advanced drama class began the year with "Bus Stop," which ran in October. Taking place in a small diner thirty miles west of Kansas City, the story centered on Cherié, a nightclub performer, played by Lesley Dodson and Halli Sparks, and a cowboy from Montana named Bo, played by James Hesla. The other cast members included Janet Thayer, Sta Strittmatter, Chris Costa, Darryl Gaylor, Brian Miller, Patti Gilbert, Joe Comstock, and Susan Greenhow.

On January 19 at Amphitheater High School, the thespians participated in the acting festival held there. Senior Lesley Dodson placed first in audition monologues. In the one act play category, James Hesla and Brian Miller placed second with "Big Black Box." Joe Comstock and Patti Gilbert went into semi-finals with their duo. Other participants included Janet Thayer with a monologue, and Chris Costa, who competed in the musical and duo categories with Susan Greenhow.

For the first time during TUSD history, a special program was installed for all four of the high school levels at Catalina. It was called the Humanities Option Program.

With this idea, the program gave Freshmen and Sophomores the choice of either choosing the GATE program or the Humanities Option Program. Juniors and Seniors were given the choice of either taking regular English courses and the required American History or American Government, or the Humanities Option Program which put the English and American History together for Juniors in a two hour span or an English class and American Government together for the Seniors.

Students Offered Variety

With many different courses available, CHS students had to make choices as to which English classes they would take in order to graduate.

The courses ranged from Speech to Modern Plays to Research Techniques. The difficulty of the classes ranged from extremely challenging to average.

For example, Research Techniques, a senior class, taught students step-by-step to write a ten page research paper discussing one of Arizona's pressing problems. "I spent five nights a week for four straight weeks down at the University of Arizona Library writing my research paper," said senior Eric Thomas. On the other hand, classes such as Modern Plays and Shakespeare offered mostly in-class work and very little homework.

Spanish teacher, Lois Tourneau

With approximately 440 students enrolled in foreign languages in Catalina High School, the main goals of the foreign language department are educating the student in grammatical, literary, and conversational skills, plus developing an awareness of empathy for foreign cultures.

The foreign language department stresses the importance of knowing more than just one language. Spanish teacher Lois Tourneau states, "one never truly knows his own language until he has studied another."

Having taught french for six years, Nancy Daschbach still enjoys getting to know student as individuals and watch them go on with french at the university level. Stressing basic skills and pronunciation, Daschbach claims that many colleges still require a foreign language as an entry requirement.

CUTBACKS HURT INDUSTRIAL ARTS

"We need more money!" In those troubled times of past years, that statement could have been heard just about anywhere.

We at Catalina High also felt the money pinch, especially the Industrial Arts Dept. Last year the school board put the I.A. budget on hold, creating problems for the staff members. Mr. Huerta, Dept. Chairman, commented that not only had the budget been suspended but two teachers were laid off, unfortunately at a time when they were needed most.

Despite the problems faced by the staff, last year was a rather good year. Student participation was at a high, and classes ran smoothly, students had the privledge of gaining "Hands On," experience in the following classes: Auto Shop, Electronics, Drafting, Machine Shop, Printing, Photography, Welding, and Wood Shop.

"Practice makes perfect," was a good title for Catalina Concert Orchestra. They practiced long hours for the many concerts they performed this past year.

To support their performances and trips, the orchestra sold candy bars, cheese and sausages, and Christmas ornaments.

In October, the orchestra had their first concert of the year. The Fall Concert consisted of the string orchestra and the advanced choirs. In March, the full symphonic Orchestra performed at Palo Verde High School in the All-City Orchestra, and later on in March, they hosted an exchange concert for Dobson High School from Mesa, Arizona. The Dobson orchestra students came to Tucson and stayed for one day. In May, the full orchestra performed at the Mountain States Music Festival at Arizona State University and also went on a trip with the concert choir. Their final concert was in June at the Patio Concert, and they played for Baccalaureate.

When asked about this year's orchestra, Miss Lehman said, "This year's orchestra was one of our very best. They worked hard and performed extremely well all year. I'm very proud of them."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

Sophomores took Health and Driver's Ed classes which continued for nine weeks each. Upon completion of each subject, the students simply interchanged classrooms. Basic information on nutrition and fitness were taught in Health, but emphasis was placed on a parental consented sex education program.

In P.E. several hundred students found they had to run the 2-mile heart run every Wednesday. Both boys and girls participated in such sports as wrestling, basketball, weightlifting or soccer every nine weeks.

Mr. Briscoe remarked that he thought P.E. should be four years instead of the required two. He also felt that students should not endanger their health by smoking. Smoking adversely effects your body while it is still growing.

The Indy 500? Maybe someday, but for now, Camillo Escobar has to learn basic driving skills in Mr. Phillips' Drivers Ed class.

Ask Mr. Phillips how he likes the new 318 Dodge Drivers Ed training car and he will most likely exclaim, "Beautiful, just beautiful! It is a lot bigger than the old training car and it is easy for the students to handle."

Phillips has taught students here at CHS for 29 years (since 1956). "Teaching depends on the students as to how hard or easy it is to teach," he pointed out. "Teaching" he added "can be a lot of fun."

Viewing films of safety, completing four reports, and a general knowledge of Arizona State driving laws were expected from each nine week class.

New courses and interesting seminars brought many students together to venture into the expanding opportunities in science.

New courses planned this year, included honor courses for Biology and Earth Science students. "Students also had a chance to use the computers," said Bill Kellis. "We are expecting many more programs that will enable students to test their knowledge in certain classes, one of which was called M.E.C.C., Minnesota Educational Computer Consortium."

For three years, Martha Stum has been involved in a program known as "Expanding Your Horizons." This allowed female students to be introduced to technical jobs that might not have been introduced to. Such jobs included structural engineering, architecture, carpeting, and many others.

The Chemical Engineering Department at the University of Arizona, held a seminar that was open to both females and males it was called 'Open House'. During the seminars professionals discussed the jobs of the future and helped students plan their curriculum for their career choice.

Although the science department was low on funds, it showed to be a very productive year.

SOCIAL STUDIES 808 Enrolled

With an enrollment of 808 students, the Social Studies department offered classes ranging from World Cultures to American Government.

Beginning this year, a new program, called the Humanities Option program, was created. This program allowed students to take Social Studies and English together as one class, two periods, in order for students to gain a better understanding of culture through literature.

All students, in order to graduate, must take a semester of Free Enterprise, one year of American History, and one year of American Government. These classes enabled students to learn about our past, our government, and our free enterprise systems. "I feel that I have benefitted greatly from the social studies classes I have taken at Catalina," commented Senior Laurel Smith.

SPECIAL ED The Bagels Are Coming

The Bagel Sale became a controversial subject at Catalina this year, but few people knew that it supported entirely the sheltered workshop for special education students.

The workshop taught these students important work skills that they could apply to jobs in our community. Students were paid for the amount of work they produced and the goal of the class was to increase their aptitude for competitive employment. Without the Bagel Sale this special class could not have existed.

Catalina's Special Ed Department is the largest in the school district with over thirty staff members assigned to various duties. These duties included teachers, aides, psychologist, social worker, therapist, vocational counselor, and many others. The classes that were taught were learning disabled, hearing impaired, educable mentally handicapped, and the only classes for the physically handicapped in TUSD.

Susan BakerSipe and Debbie Fleischman received two mini grants for the "Bagel Workshop" from the educational enrichment fund. Students in the workshop received paychecks from the district and deposited them in their math class at the First Interstate Bank.

Special Ed was a frustrating area to teach for most of the staff, but the "rewards of the heart" were more than worth the frustrations.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS STUDENTS EARN AN EDUCATION

So that students could have a chance to earn a school credit and a salary at the same time, Catalina provided three clubs, DECA, COE, and PIP.

Distributive Clubs of America (DECA) is administered by John Siavelis, the course is increasing in enrollment. DECA gave students the ability to earn minimum wage working at places such as Goldwaters, Bob's Bargain Barn, gift shops and many other areas of sales.

The Cooperative Office Education (COE) class, run by Violet Bingham, gave students secretarial and in-office experience. Students gained true knowledge and the responsibility of the business world which is not often obtainable by working in fast food restaurants.

The Professional Internship Program (PIP) class gave students the pre-business experience needed to enter the professional field of their choice. PIP prepared students for ACT, PSAT, and SAT testing. Students attended seminars to talk with professionals in Law, Medicine, Engineering, and Computers.

Students choose an internship where they would serve a minimum of five hours per week on a volunteer basis. The students were asked to keep journals of their experiences and what they learned. PIP student Doug Banard, worked at channel four, found that through PIP, he will be able to make a clear decision on his future.

A PLACE TO ESCAPE

Seniors Lisa Schapendonk and Shelly Wade make use of the library's quiet to study.

Librarian Burgess Needle. The 1984-85 school year was Mr. Needles first at Catalina.

The library was a place that offered peace and quiet apart from the noise and confusion of the hallway, a place to cram for a final exam, a place to lose your self in a book or magazine and forget the troubles of the day, and for many a place for refuge when they wanted to cut class. For many students the library was a place to escape.

The library offered an assortment of over 30,000 books, Tucson newspapers, dozens of magazines and periodicals, vertical files, and filmstrips. Many classes depended on the library such as Mr. Hoge's Research Techniques and Mr. Zaharia's Government classes for the material needed to do research papers. In addition to classes, students that didn't have a first or sixth period could use the library as a place to study or do homework.

Students that elected to be library aids learned how to maintain library records and master the Dewey decimal system of filing. Also they checked out books, magazines, and filmstrips as part of their librarian training.

After missing the first few deadlines, Torch staffers faced many problems in trying to get the yearbook out on time.

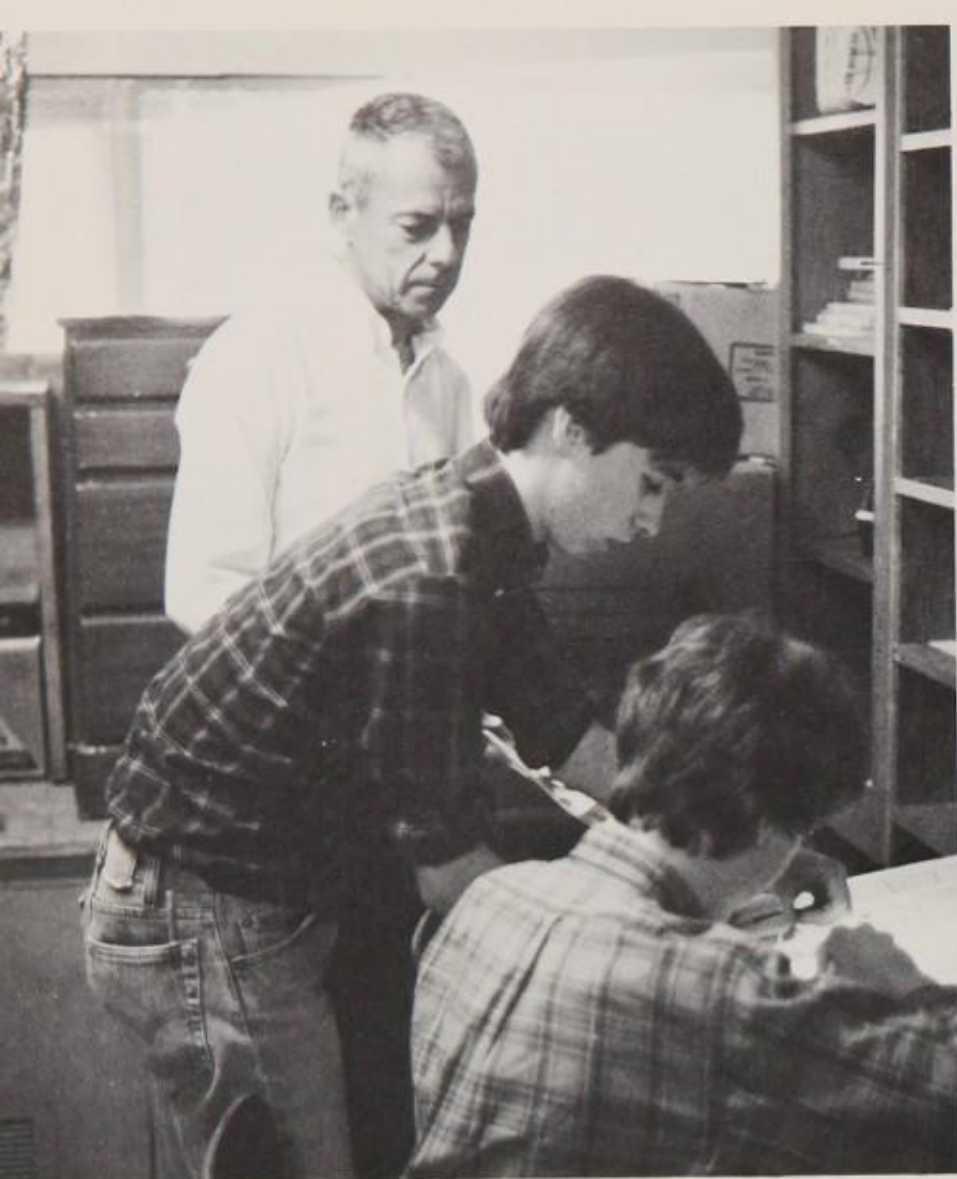

The first problem was the unavailability of an advanced photo class first semester. Another complication was that underclass photos were taken two months late.

Mr. Robert Reynolds, first year Torch advisor commented, "Despite all the problems, I really enjoyed teaching yearbook." Reynolds added, "We owe a great deal to Mr. Segerstrom's advanced photo class for the quality photos they shot this year."

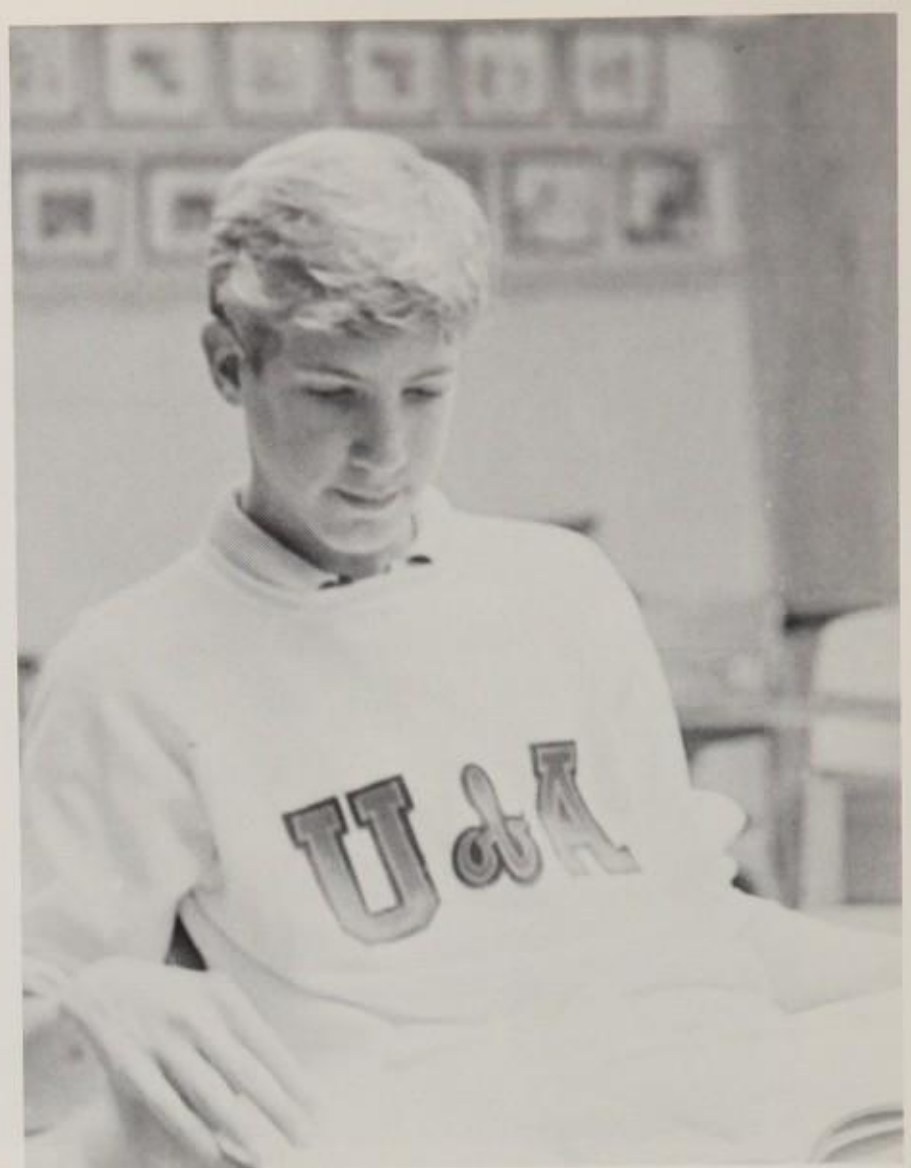

Led by Editor-In-Chief Debbie Soehl, and assistant editors Pam Coolidge and Eden Tretschok, the Torchers took on new assignments, and with the addition of a photo class second semester, the yearbook started coming together. Tretschok added, "Due to lack of experience we faced many problems in meeting deadlines."

Despite the many trials faced this year, the '85 Torch was finally put to bed and a quality publication was produced.

During the school year students had the opportunity to be involved in many clubs. Among the many were the International, Spanish, French, Quill & Scroll, and Ski Clubs.

The Ski Club became the most popular with 45 members. Activities included two ski trips; they were over Rodeo and Christmas vacations. For $220 the skiers spent five days in Salt Lake City where they skied Solitude, Alta, and many other slopes. Sophomore April Hinds spent the first day in the hospital after injuring her left knee.

The Rodeo ski trip took the club to Telluride, Colorado for $170. Advisor Dan Maricich accompanied the skiers on both trips. Members considered the trips to be both a fun and a learning experience as they improved their skiing skills.

The second most popular club, the Spanish Club, bolted down two scholarships last year to a senior and a freshman. This past year they have raised $450 for scholarships and club activities. President of the club was Paul Jurica, Junior, and the Vice-President was Katty Rutter, Junior. The advisor, Lois Tourneau commented, "A pretty special group of students led the club."

Tucson-based Artist Pamela Marks conducted a four week residency at Catalina during the month of November. This Artist-in-Education program was sponsored by the Arizona Commission on the Arts and Catalina High School.

Marks held a master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Arizona. Her paintings were included in private and corporate collections as well as the Tucson Museum of Art. Recent exhibitions were held at Connecticut College, New London, Connecticut and the Linda Durham Gallery, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Marks shared her ideas concerning mixed media painting with the students in Davis' and Reynolds' Art classes. Student teacher Lorena Nalin said, "I really enjoyed the mixed media painting project the we did and plan to use it when I start teaching."

Mixed media collages were created by the English classes of Elaine Caret, Francis Curtis, John Hoge, Thomas Harper, and Mary Jane Cook. Outstanding examples of all of these works were put on exhibit in the foyer of the school administration offices.

CAMPUS UPDATE ACADEMIC DECATHLON

Under the direction of English teacher Mary Jane Cook, eight juniors and seniors participated as members of the Academic Decathlon team.

In order to be chosen as a team member, the students had to take a series of sample tests from the competition. The final team members included Kathy Hendricks and Paul Jurica in the honors (3.7 grade point average or higher) category. Melanie Wade and Brad Walls were in the scholastic (3.0-3.69 GPA) category, and Susan Greenhow and Eden Tretschok were in the varsity (C GPA) category. Katy Putter and David Dickerson also participated as alternates in the honors and scholastic groups respectively.

When the final team members were chosen in late October, the group began to meet for 45 minutes three mornings a week to study as a group. They would also spend three hours one night a week to work together and solve each others problems. They prepared to take a written test covering Grammar & Literature, Social Sciences, Economics, Science, Math, and Fine Arts. They also had to be able to give a four minute speech, write an essay, give an interview and participate in the Super Quiz on the book Mega-trends by John Nasbitt.

In addition to the group study sessions, the team was also responsible for several individual studying projects, such as reading Great Expectations by Charles Dickens, and researching specific areas for each subject.

At the Pima County competition on February 1985, the team placed seventh out of twenty-two teams overall, and received a trophy for third place in the Super Quiz. Individually, several awards were also won. Melanie Wade tied for third on the Economics test and Brad Walls placed third in the interview in the scholastic division. Susan Greenhow placed first in the Grammar & Literature test, and Eden Tretschok tied for third on the Economics test at the varsity level.

Some of the acts included in Capers were a faculty feud, a scene in both the boys' and girls' lockerroom, and a campus news update. The production was directed by senior Chris Costa with the help of assistant directors Lesley Dodson and Brian Miller. Senior Matt Gibbons commented, "The class of '84 let Capers die, but the class of '85 brought it back and it was the best production ever."

Seniors Gina DeBartolo, John Carruth and Sean Bemiss portray the administrators.

CAMPUS UPDATE

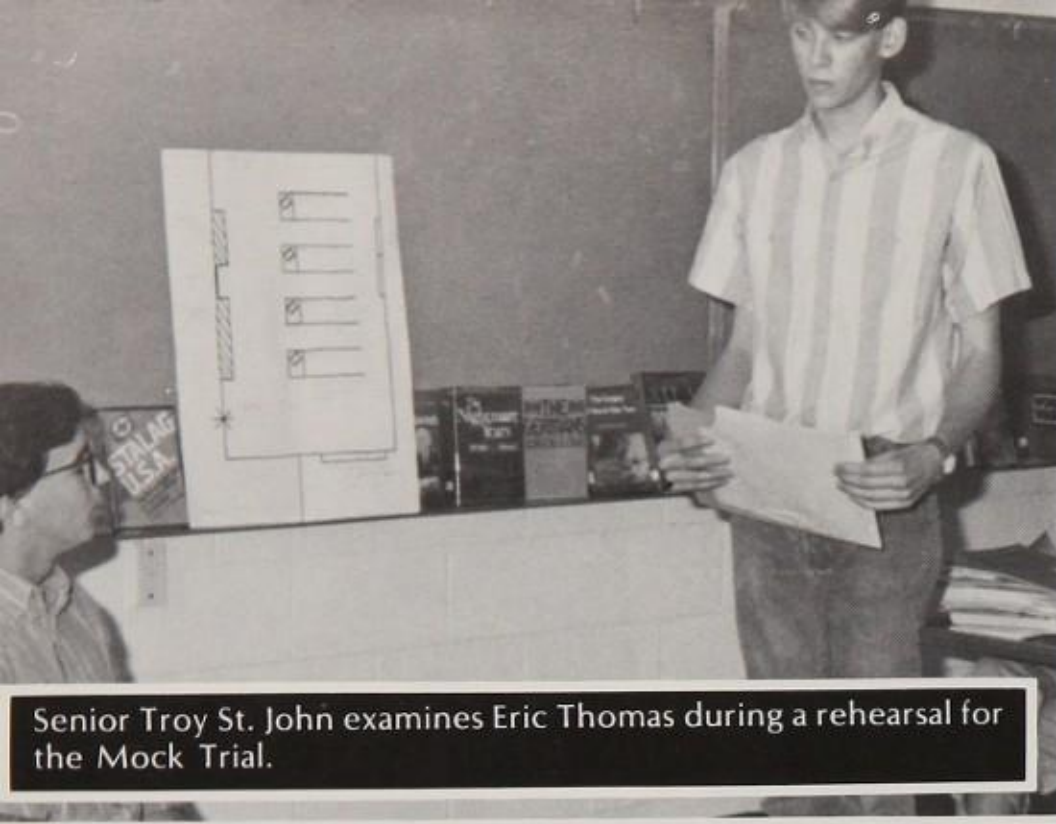

With the help of English teacher Richard Kluck, eight students made up the two teams that participated in the Mock Trial competition.

The members of the two teams included Susan Greenhow, Troy St. John, Eric Thomas, and Eden Tretschok as team A, and Shelley Harris, Mark McClure, Laurel Smith, and Kasi VerBruggen competed as team B. The two teams met together as a whole one hour after school two days a week to prepare for the competition and they also met on their own on weekends.

Also coached by attorneys Alan Solot and Skip Wood, the students prepared to play the roles of both defense and prosecution in a shoplifting case.

In the Pima County competition, held on April 13, the teams were scored on the basis of how well they presented their case, and not necessarily who won the verdict. Team B finished fourth, qualifying for state, and, because of a mix-up with the judges, team A was disqualified from going to state. Since only the top four teams at state were announced, the team never learned how they placed. Coach Richard Kluck commented, "Even though our teams really got the short end of the stick, I think this year's teams were great! They worked well and diligently together, and all eight were certainly a joy to be with. Catalina can be proud of their ability and performance."

The eleven members of Student Council planned a free dance after a football game in September, Spirit Week activities, Homecoming, and the Homecoming dance, which was also free. They also organized a litter campaign that took place in December. Its purpose was to make the students aware of the trash on the school grounds and the need to keep the campus clean. Furthermore, Student Council also organized a semi-formal dance for the holidays and a guys' volleyball tournament that took place in the spring.

RESTAURANTS

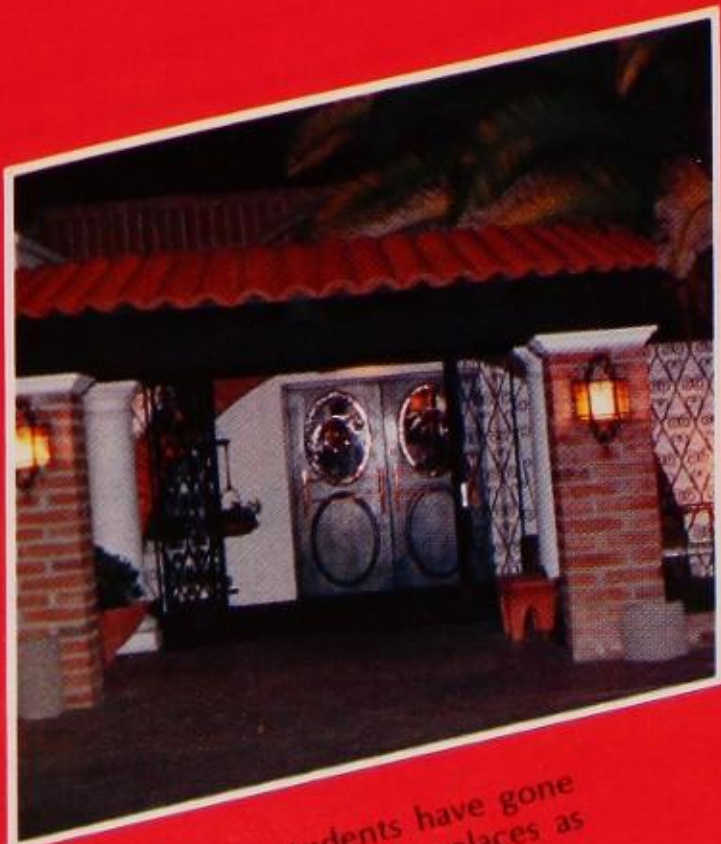

For the times of your life

During the year many students went to eat at some of Tucson's most exclusive restaurants.

On prom night many Trojans journeyed to such exclusive places as The Palomino, Da Vinci, The Iron Mask, Katherine and Company and even the only five star restaurant in Arizona, The Tack Room. "Every time the prom's come around, we see many high school age couples come in and have dinner before going to the prom," states Paul Dickerson, maitre'd at Katherine and Company.

With places like these to choose from, Trojans enjoyed these many special times out on the town.

The biggest noises in music during 1984-85 was Bruce Springsteen with his album "Born In The U.S.A." and Prince and the Revolution with the "Purple Rain" soundtrack. Other releases on the pop scene were, The Cars With "Heartbeat City", The Fixx with "Phantoms", and Chicago with "Chicago 17".

1984 saw many comebacks from Rock veterans such as Rod Stewart, The Yardbirds, and Elton John. Also, many artists went solo such as Neal Schon, Steve Perry of Journey, and Rodger Waters and David Gilmour of Pink Floyd. Other groups who had broke apart reformed such as Deep Purple and Aerosmith, which was boosted by the return of guitarist Joe Perry.

On the Heavy Metal-Hard Rock scene, the biggest noises were the L.A. based Ratt and the androgyne rockers from N.Y. called Twisted Sister, with their top-seller releases "Out of the cellar" and "Stay Hungry" respectively. Other releases were Ronnie James Dio's "The Last In Line", Krokus's, "The Blitz", Sammy Hagar, "VOA", Kiss's, "Animalize", and Rush's Platinum best-seller "Grace Under Pressure".

Homecoming King '84 was chosen at the assembly during fifth hour on Friday. Toby Branch won the honor. The Queen, however, was chosen during halftime. The Queen nominees and their escorts were brought out in vintage T - Birds. The nominees were helped out of their cars by the escorts and handed over to their fathers. WESTERNERS VISIT CATALINA

Spending a year here, Seniors Bastian Moeckli, Alp Oztarham, Kirsten Dyreborg, soccer coach James Murray, and Home-Economics teacher Margaret Walton, from Switzerland, Turkey, Denmark, Scotland, and Yorkshire, England respectively, enjoyed a year learning about a different culture.

Enthusiastically, Murray and Walton became the first exchange teachers here. Besides coaching soccer, Murray taught P.E. and health. In addition to Arizona, Walton gained teaching experience in places such as France, Greece, Holland, as well as a few more countries. Walton added "The people in the U.S. are very enthusiastic, optimistic and proud to be American."

American Scandanavian Exchange Student (A.S.S.E.) Kirsten Dyreborg spent her spare time swimming and hiking. Moeckli played soccer and tennis while Oztarham enjoyed basketball and photography. Both male students came through the American Field Service (A.F.S.) program.

French teacher, Nancy Dashbach, the A.F.S. sponsor helped the club organize several successful fund raisers. She stated, "I have had fun advising A.F.S. and I expect to have a much larger turnout for next years' A.F.S. club."

Teen night at Cowboys proved popular among Catalina Students.

ENTERTAINMENT WHAT'S TO DO

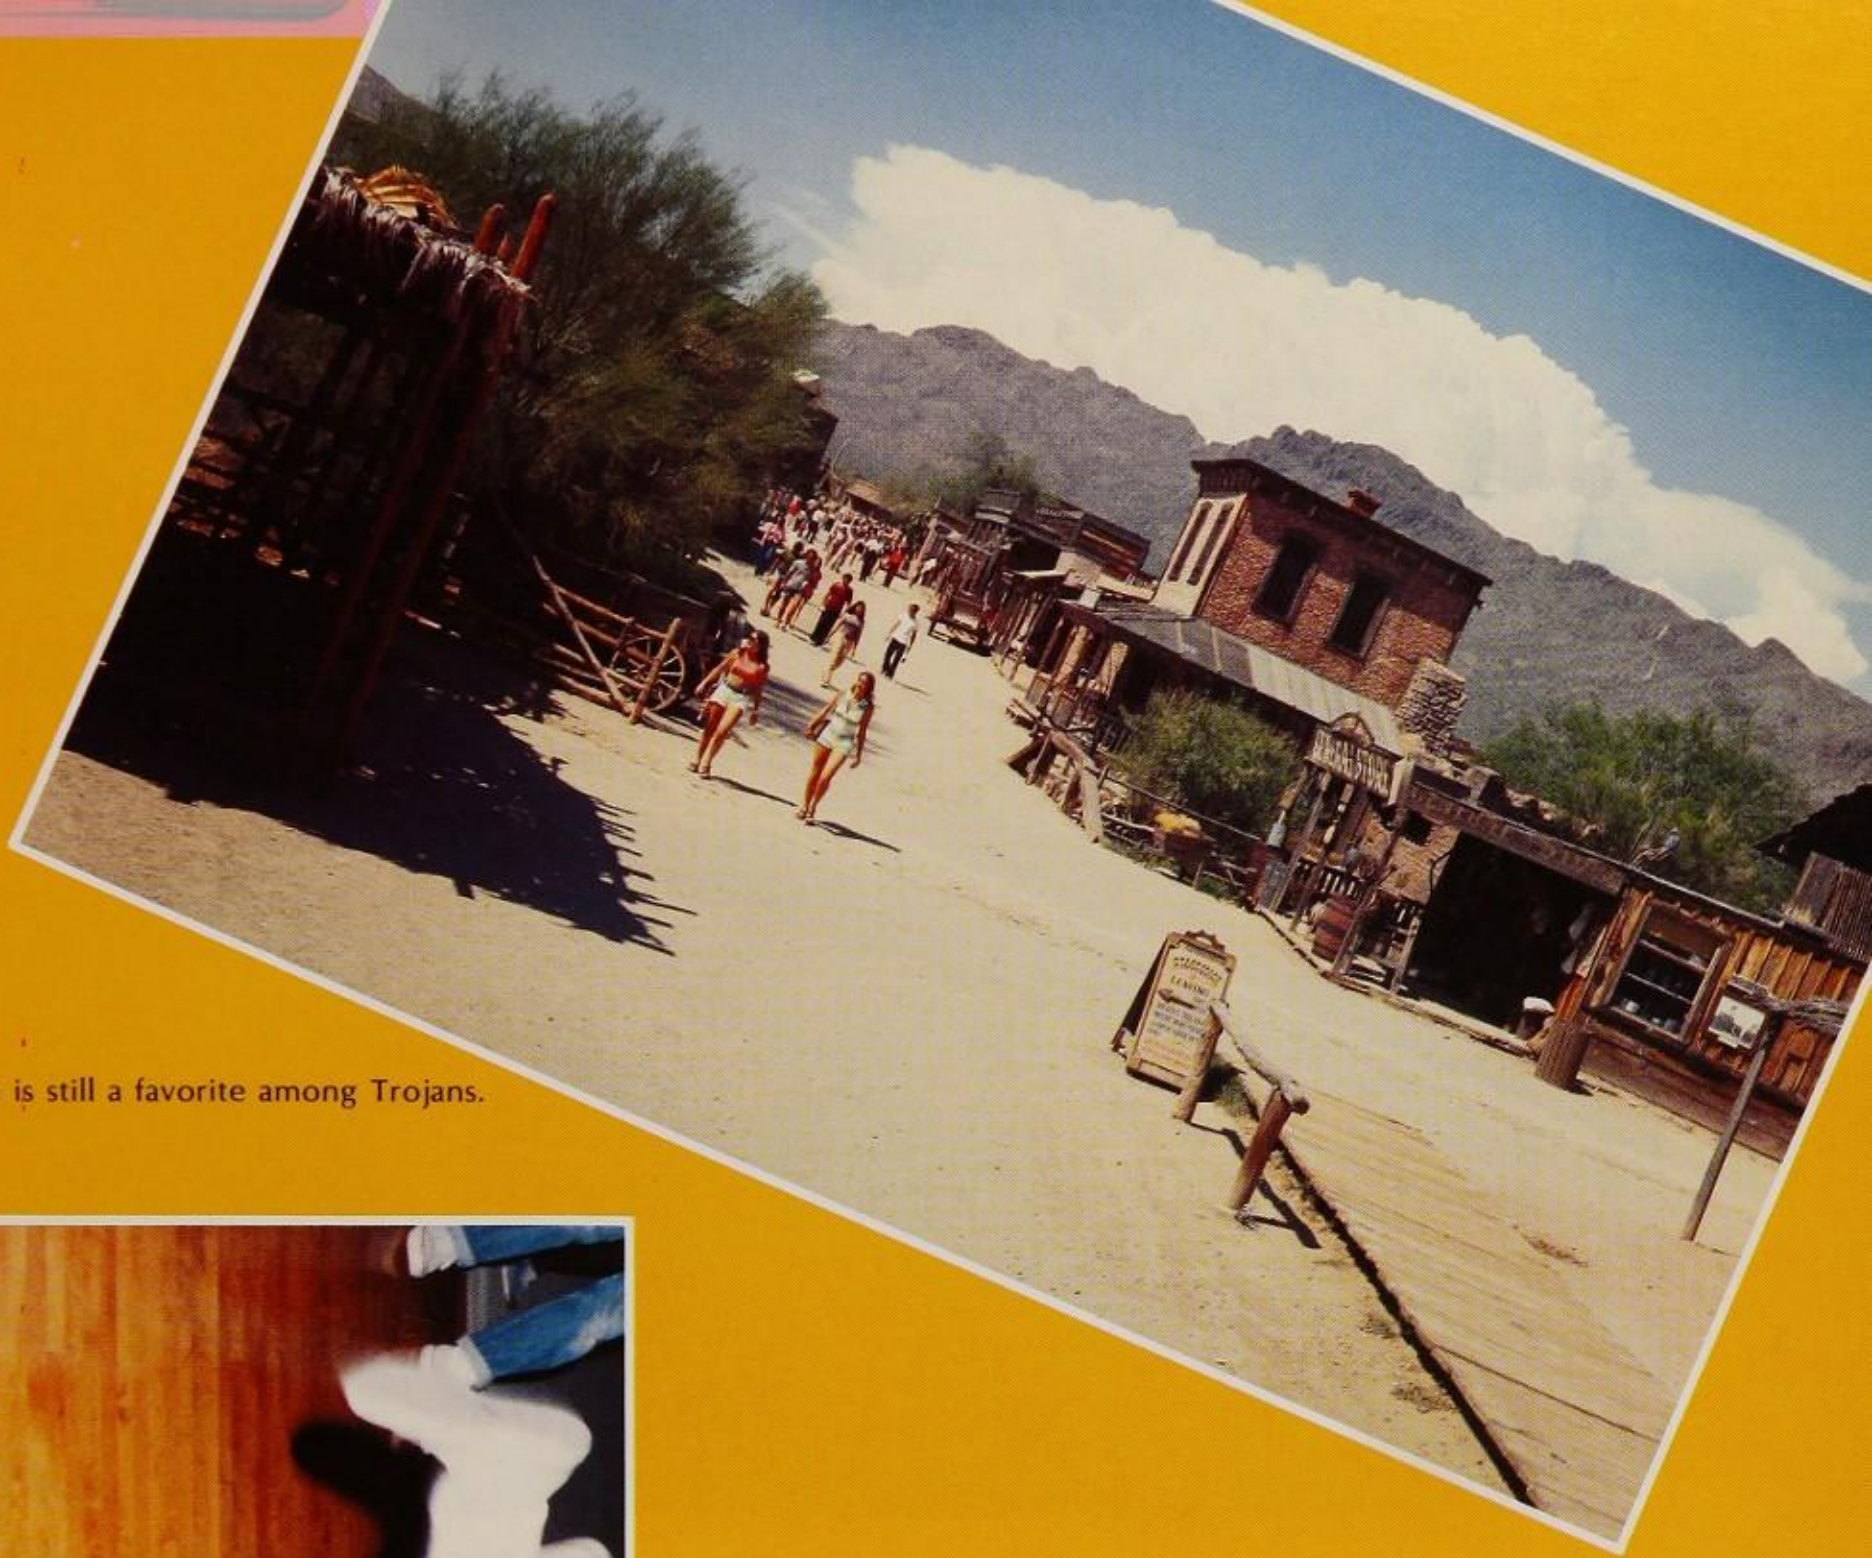

Students find it relaxing to kick back at Sabino Canyon.

Occasionally Catalina students find themselves bored and wondering what to do.

The old standards, movies and rollerskating have become rather mundane, while dancing at Cowboys and U of A football games have become popular, one student comments, "I like going to Cowboys because you meet a lot of new people and it's very energetic."

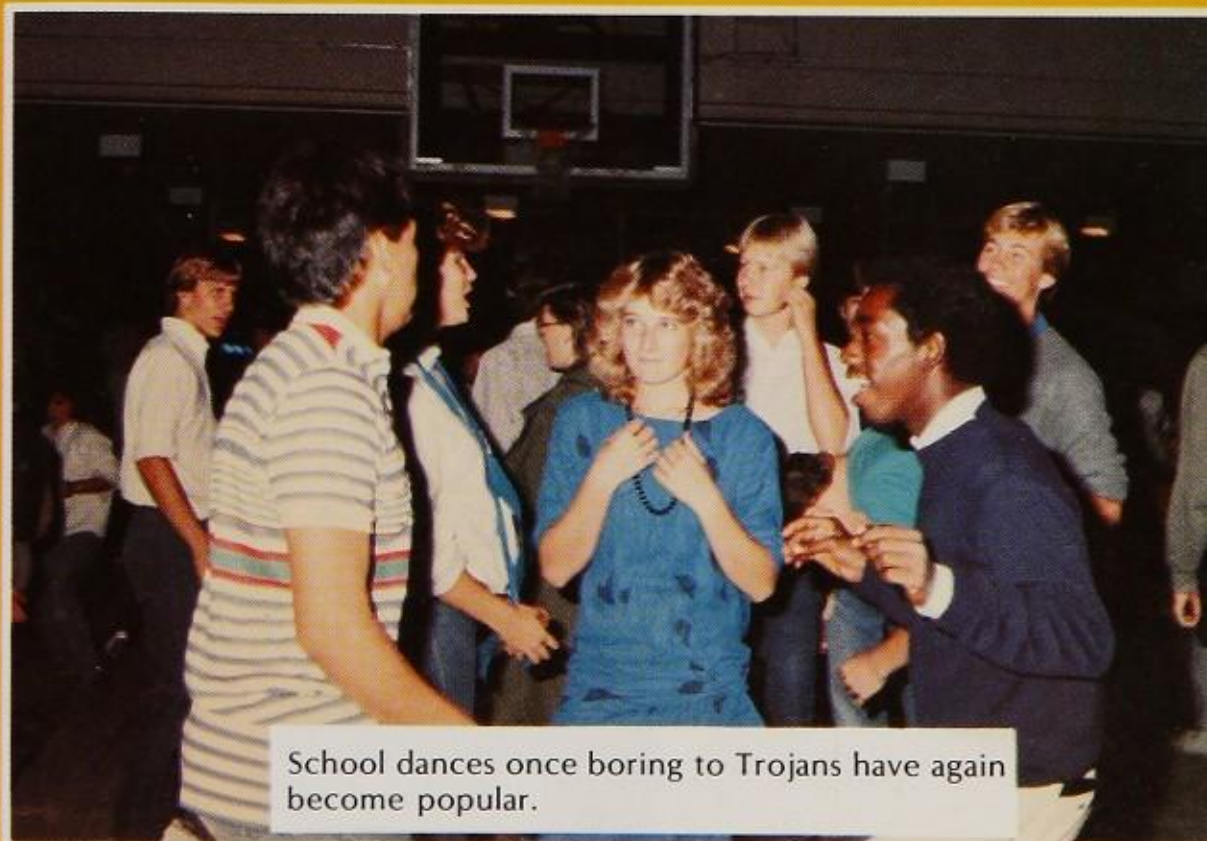

Since movie prices have skyrocketed, students have found inexpensive entertainment at Sabino Canyon. "I go there every half day, it's so peaceful especially near the 3rd bridge," Carson Noel exclaimed.

SPIRIT WEEK

Student council members display their spirit on hat and shades day.

The three legged race was held at the assembly on friday.

Spirit week, held during the week of October 15-19 was used as a way to increase school spirit. Trojans showed their spirit by dressing up in various costumes beginning Monday with hat and shades day followed by, plaid day, hobo day, sports day, and the very popular toga day. The week was concluded with a spirit assembly which was held on Friday. The spirit assembly was for the homecoming game being held that night. Unfortunately the Trojans lost to visiting Canyon Del Oro 41-13, thus ending the week's festivities.

OUTDOORS STUDENTS ENJOY THE OUTDOORS

During vacations and weekends, the call of the outdoors lured students to places such as the Grand Canyon and Lake Roosevelt.

As Students tried to find ways to spend their spare time, activities like camping and waterskiing became increasingly popular. During the winter, people went to Mt. Lemmon and Sunrise to snowski. When it became warmer, waterskiing at Lake Roosevelt was a relaxing way to spend weekends.

For people who did not mind the long drive, the Grand Canyon offered beautiful scenery as one of the seven wonders of the world. Overall, the outdoors offered students a variety of ways to relax once school was out.

Sequels Boost Movie Industry

Over the summer, several new movies revived the motion picture industry.

With such popular sequels as Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom, and Star Trek 3, The Search for Spock, many Trojans found themselves rushing to theatres to find out what was going to happen next to their favorite heroes.

Since Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom proved much more violent than expected, the movie industry was forced to come out with a new rating, PG-13. This stated that children under 13 should be accompanied by an adult.

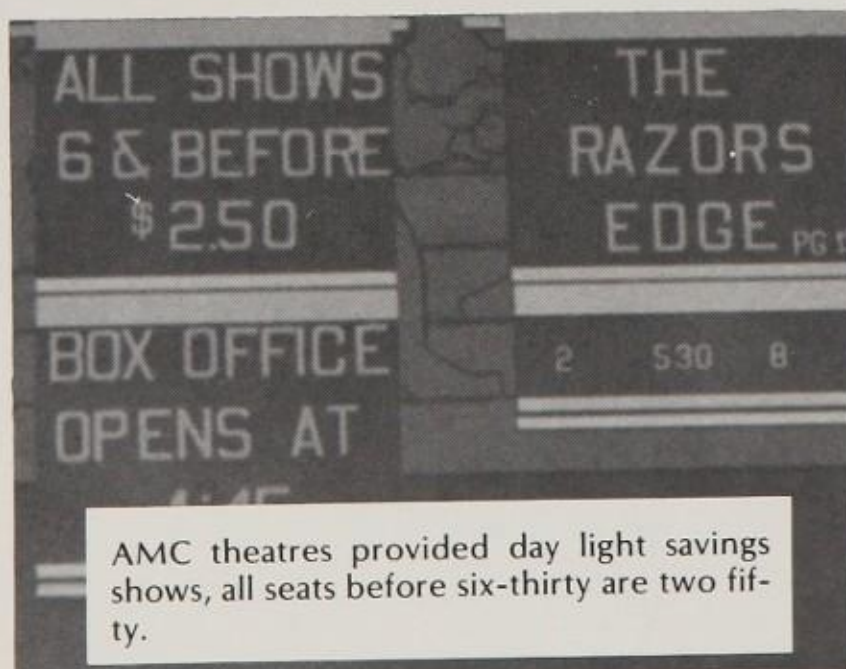

Under the direction of Steven Spielberg, another long awaited movie arrived, called Grem-lins. This movie brought us the furry little creatures otherwise known as Mogwais, who reproduce after being exposed to water.

Although prices of movies have skyrocketed, many students still find it a way out of another boring Saturday night.

ELECTIONS: LANDSLIDE VICTORY BURIES MONDALE

Just this past November millions of Americans cast their votes for both national and local candidates running for leadership offices.

Long before the approximate two-hundred-fifty million people could place their votes the election was being completely thought through. President Reagan and Vice-President Bush ran nationally for their second term in the White House against some very qualified "new comers." From the Democratic side Walter Mondale and the first woman ever to run for a national office, Geraldine Ferraro. Mondale and Ferraro ran for president and vice-president.

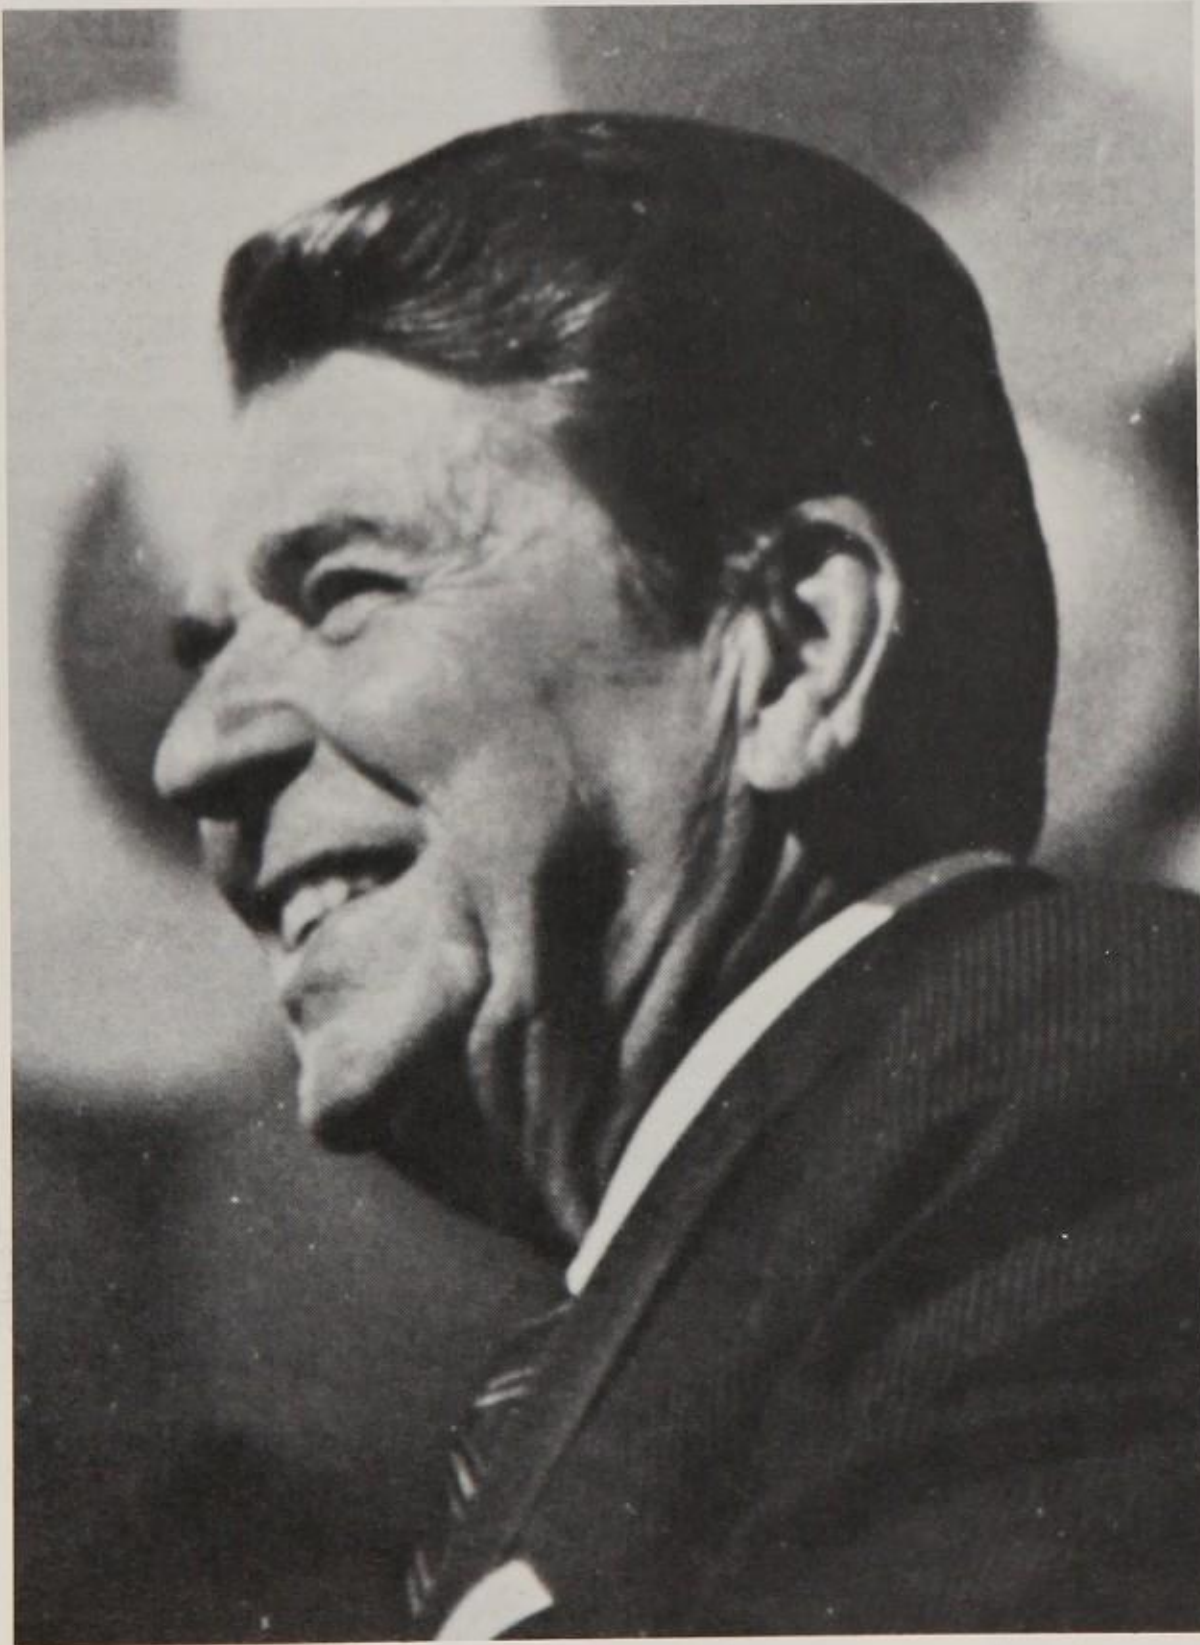

The national candidates began with their conventions in late August. Reagan quickly obtained 447 of the 270 electoral votes needed. The Mondale-Ferraro ticket lost by a larger margin than Jimmy Carter's in the 1980 election.

In Michigan Mondale said to the crowd of silent Democrats, "I can feel it, we're going to win!" The results of the 1984 election showed differently, President Ronald Reagan took the entire country, burring Fritz Mondale.

Locally Jim Kolby and Morris Udall took the majority in Tucson. After his victory over Jim McNulty, Kolby expressed his thankfulness to the many people who took part in his victory. Udall will serve as senator for another six years, he had no competition this election year.

The national and local elections worked much smoother today than years before when we were without the computers. Today we can tabulate millions of votes in seconds. America had some firsts, some records set, some losses, but one victory. It was a long battle for both the Democrats and the Republicans, but as they say, "Let the best man win."

Coming from behind, the J.V. Baseball team improved a starting record of 1-9 to a final record of 6-13 "after much improvement", according to Coach Jeff Lovin.

Strong points included pitching by Sophomores Octavio Valenzuela, and Bradley Jones, hitting by Sophomores Greg Mammana, Octavio Valenzuela, Scott Bemis, Byron Brown, and Steve Ulloa, and hitting.

Games won included CDO twice, Sabino twice, Santa Rita, and Cholla. Losses were attributed to "difficulty catching the ball" by Lovin.

Varsity Works As A Team

Senior Frank Ulloa awaits the play against Amphi.

Ending the season with a 10-10 record, the varsity baseball team with only four returning lettermen, "played well together" according to Coach Rick Valley. Senior Scott Tomooka, second baseman and returner, explained, "One player's bad game was another one's good."

Being the first girl to play baseball in the Class AAA Southern Division and probably the state, Senior Stacy Engle started ahead of two other players as catcher. Later in the season, however, Junior Bobby Mammana won the starting position from her. She commented, "It made me tough. If I can take everything they give me, I can handle everything."

Although there were no outstanding players, Coach Vally considered Junior Luis Romero and Senior Frank Ulloa the top players.

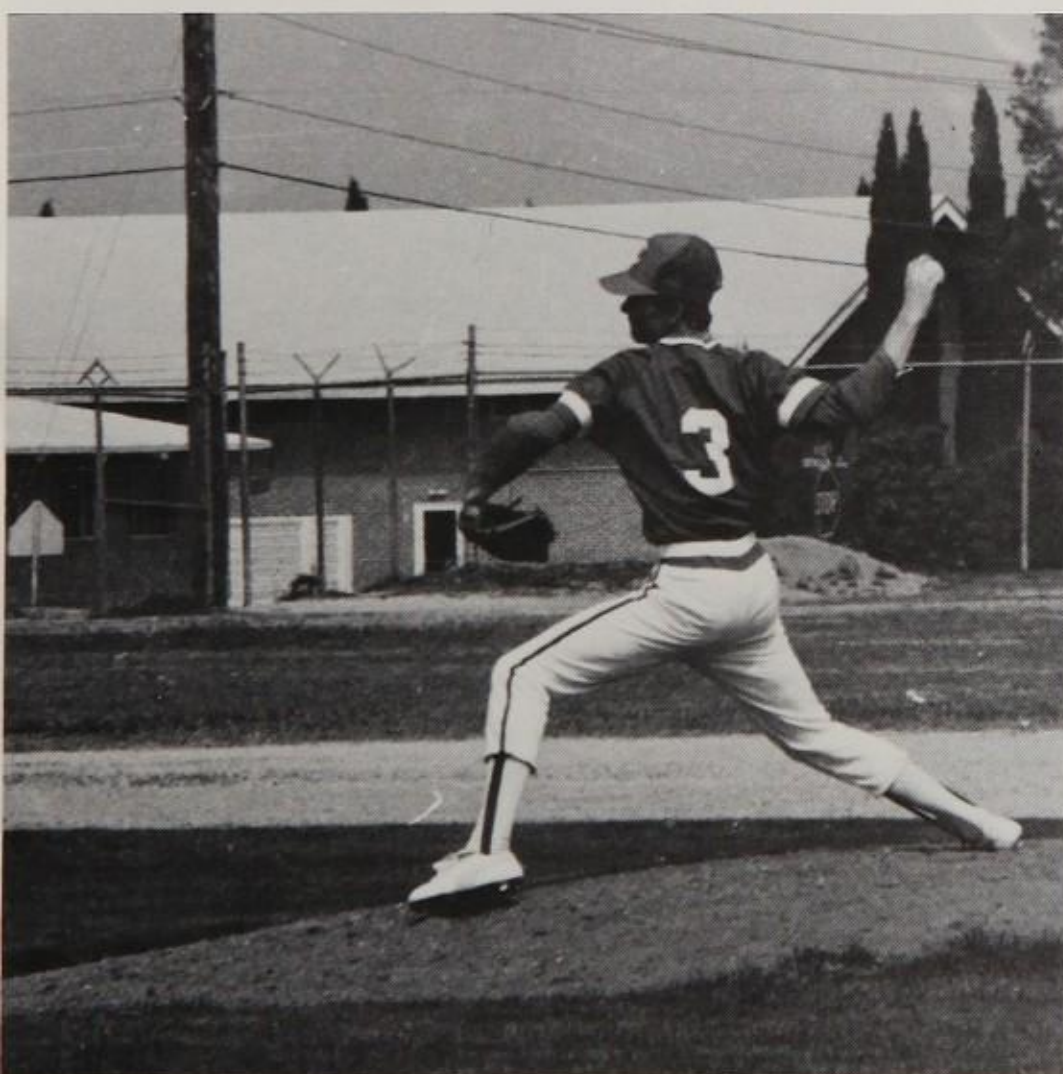

Another returning player, Senior Matt Gibbons, stated, "We had a great mental attitude."

While Junior Robert Reyna coaches first, Senior Matt Gibbons arrives safe after a hit.

Led by senior guards Mike Gardner and Frank Kellner and forward Joe Hopson, the varsity cagers (23-6) took second in the state finals after beating CDO and losing to Alhambra in the championship game.

Besides being runner-up at state, the cagers placed second in the Holiday Tournament and third in the Division Championships.

On March 4, the cagers triumphed over CDO to whom they had lost both previous games. After this win, they played Alhambra High School from Phoenix in the state championship game. Despite the support of four busloads of fans at the championship game, the cagers lost to a taller Alhambra team 58 to 77.

Coach Gerry Lybeck attributed their success to "passing the ball well and shooting the ball well."

JV, Frosh Gain Good Records

Junior Sam Mendivil stretches for a jump ball.

Coach Elmer Creviston, who planned to retire from coaching after this year, explained that despite a lack of height, the J.V. team gained an overall record of 12-7 because they "wanted to win more than the other teams."

After a six game winning streak and beating top teams in the city, the Freshman cagers ended the season similarly with a 10-6 record because of "better teamwork", stated Coach John Reynolds.

John Klein, the tallest player, led the J.V. team in rebounding with a height of 6'1" along with teammates Ricardo Alzone early in the season, Byron Brown, who became stronger in shooting, and point Guard Joey Pretter's leadership. Because of their height disadvantage, all games proved to be challenging; however, the team "won with hustle and desire," Creviston surmised.

With strong points such as rebounding, quickness, and athletic ability, the Freshman team, led by players Delvin Holmes, Richard Griffith, Tony Simms, Tony Carbal, Pat Thomas, and Ronnie Lopez, "had the ability to win city championships and do well in state when they mature," Reynolds predicted.

SUCCESS FOR SQUAD

Spending four days at a Cheerleading camp sponsored by the National Cheerleading Association, the varsity cheerleaders were taught new skills.

With the new skills acquired at the camp and their hard work and enthusiasm, the squad was successful at sports competition and pep assemblies. All through the year the varsity squad was encouraging and supportive of Catalina's varsity sports. Working completely on their own time, the squad came up with new cheers and movements for both football and basketball games. Led by seniors Karin Mers and Halli Sparks, the squad did excellent in cheer competitions and in assemblies.

In order to learn basic cheerleading skills, the five junior varsity cheerleaders also attended a four day camp at Northern Arizona University. Led by sophomore captain Leslie Wong, the J.V. squad cheered at junior varsity football and basketball games. Spending extra hours making routines for events such as assemblies also kept the squad busy.

At the four-day pepleading camp, the songleaders recieved two spirit sticks, and many ribbons for superior dancing skills.

With the new rule that did away with sports being a class, most of the practices and dance routines were made up and perfected on the songleaders own time. The squad made spirit posters, and worked closely with the band perfecting their half-time dances.

"This squads main strengths were they had a lot of spirit and they always worked hard," stated Diane Judge, advisor of both Cheerleaders and Songleaders. "When there was something to be done for the football or basketball games the squad went and got it done even if it wasn't that important." Led by Co-Captains Senior Lesley Dodson and Junior Cyndy Berndsen the Songleaders also were involved in all the sports assemblies.

Paul Wallace who teaches at Doolen for the educable mentally handicapped has been coaching Cross Country for four years. He feels Catalina will have a strong team next year with six returning runners and one graduating.

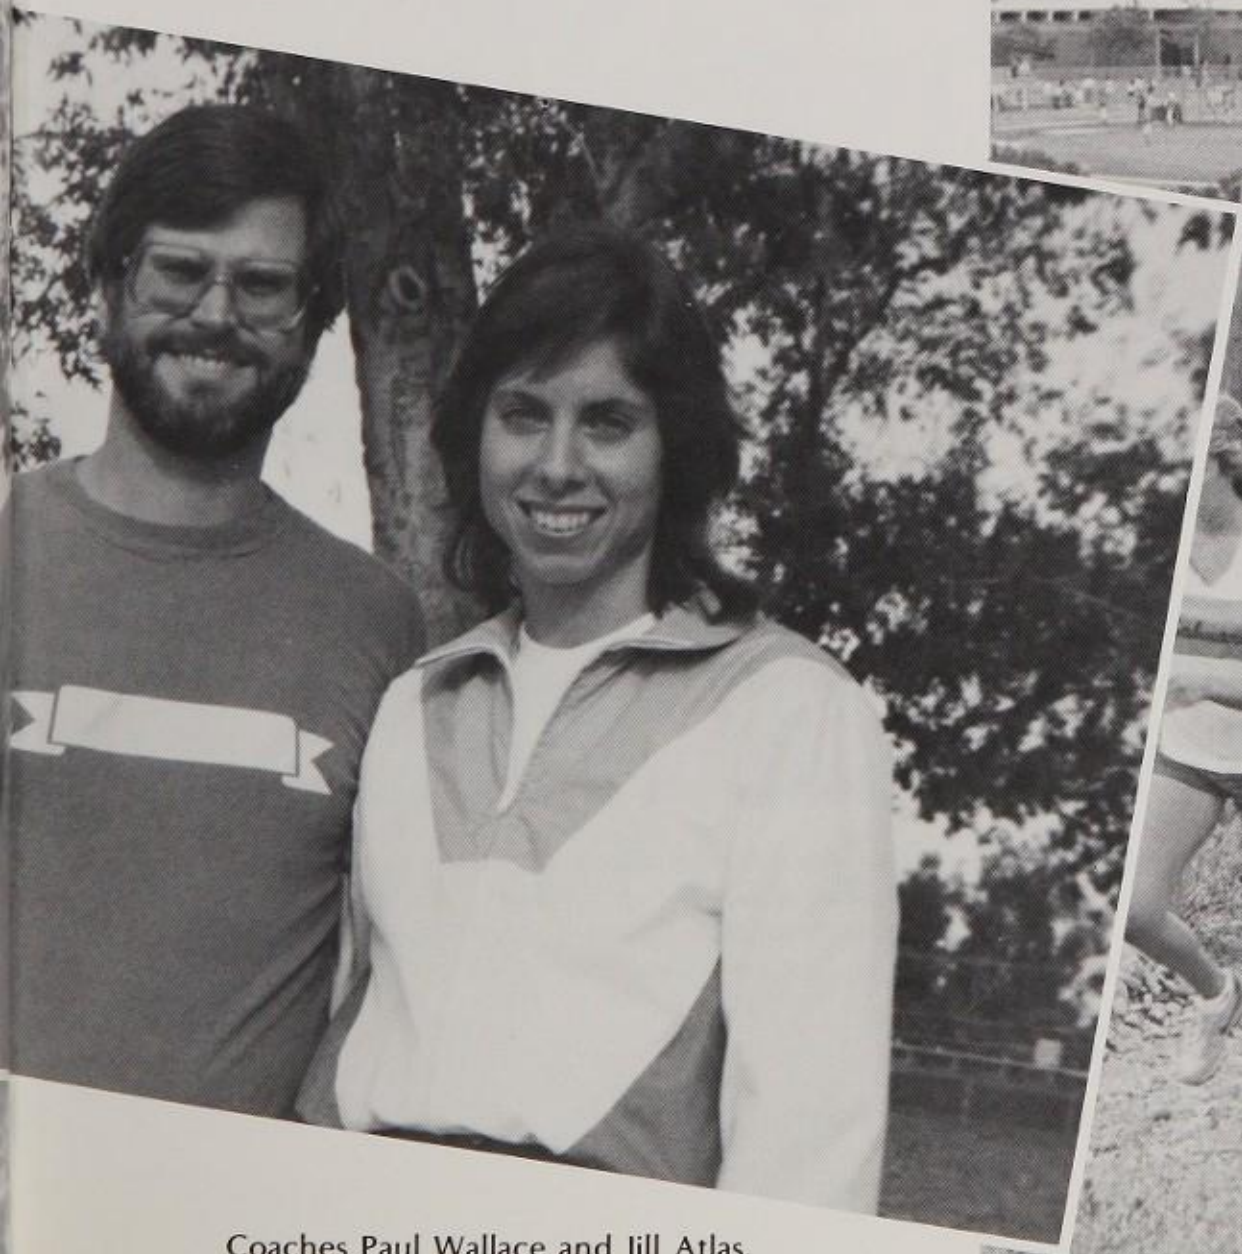

Girls Cross Country team under Coach Jill Atlas did very well considering "they were very young and inexperienced. Many of the girls lowered their times to a respectable average."

FOOTBALL

RECORD DOESN'T SHOW ALL

Although the J.V. squad ended the season with a 2-6-0 record, Coach Bob Reynolds explained that this record did not indicate the potential of the team. Coach Reynolds also stated that this was the worst record he has had as a coach, but, "is the best team overall," that he has ever worked with.

Sophomore quarterback Mark Dominice and running back Virgil Henderson led the team's offense. Dominice started to pass more than ever before. Henderson, the heart of the offense, was moved up to the varsity team after the sixth game.

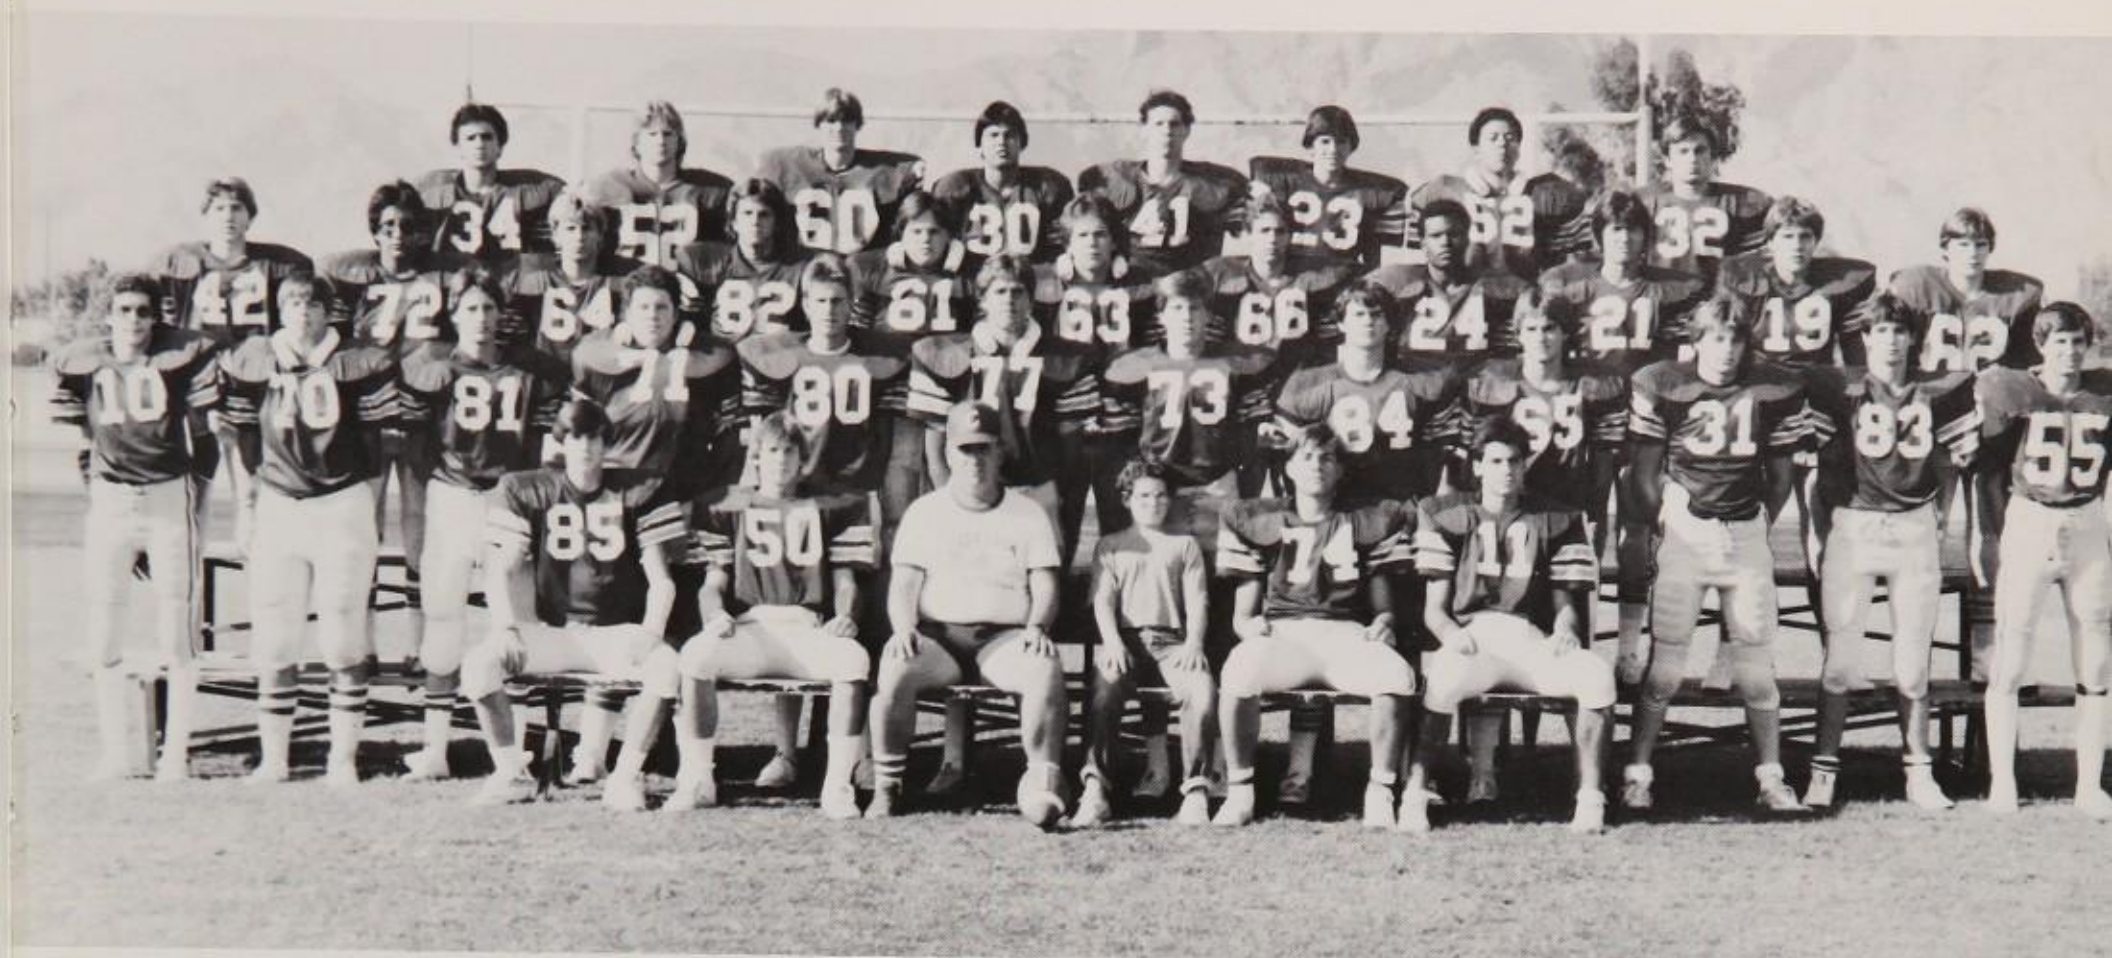

With a 4-4-0 record, the freshman squad ended the year beating teams from Sunnyside, Salpointe, CDO, and Sabino.

Coach Creviston commented that the team made a tremendous improvement in all areas, which include skills, and techniques on both offense and defense. Creviston also explained that the team was weak in numbers, but that the boys on the team, "would be ready to move up to J.V. ball with a measure of confidence."

ATTITUDE MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

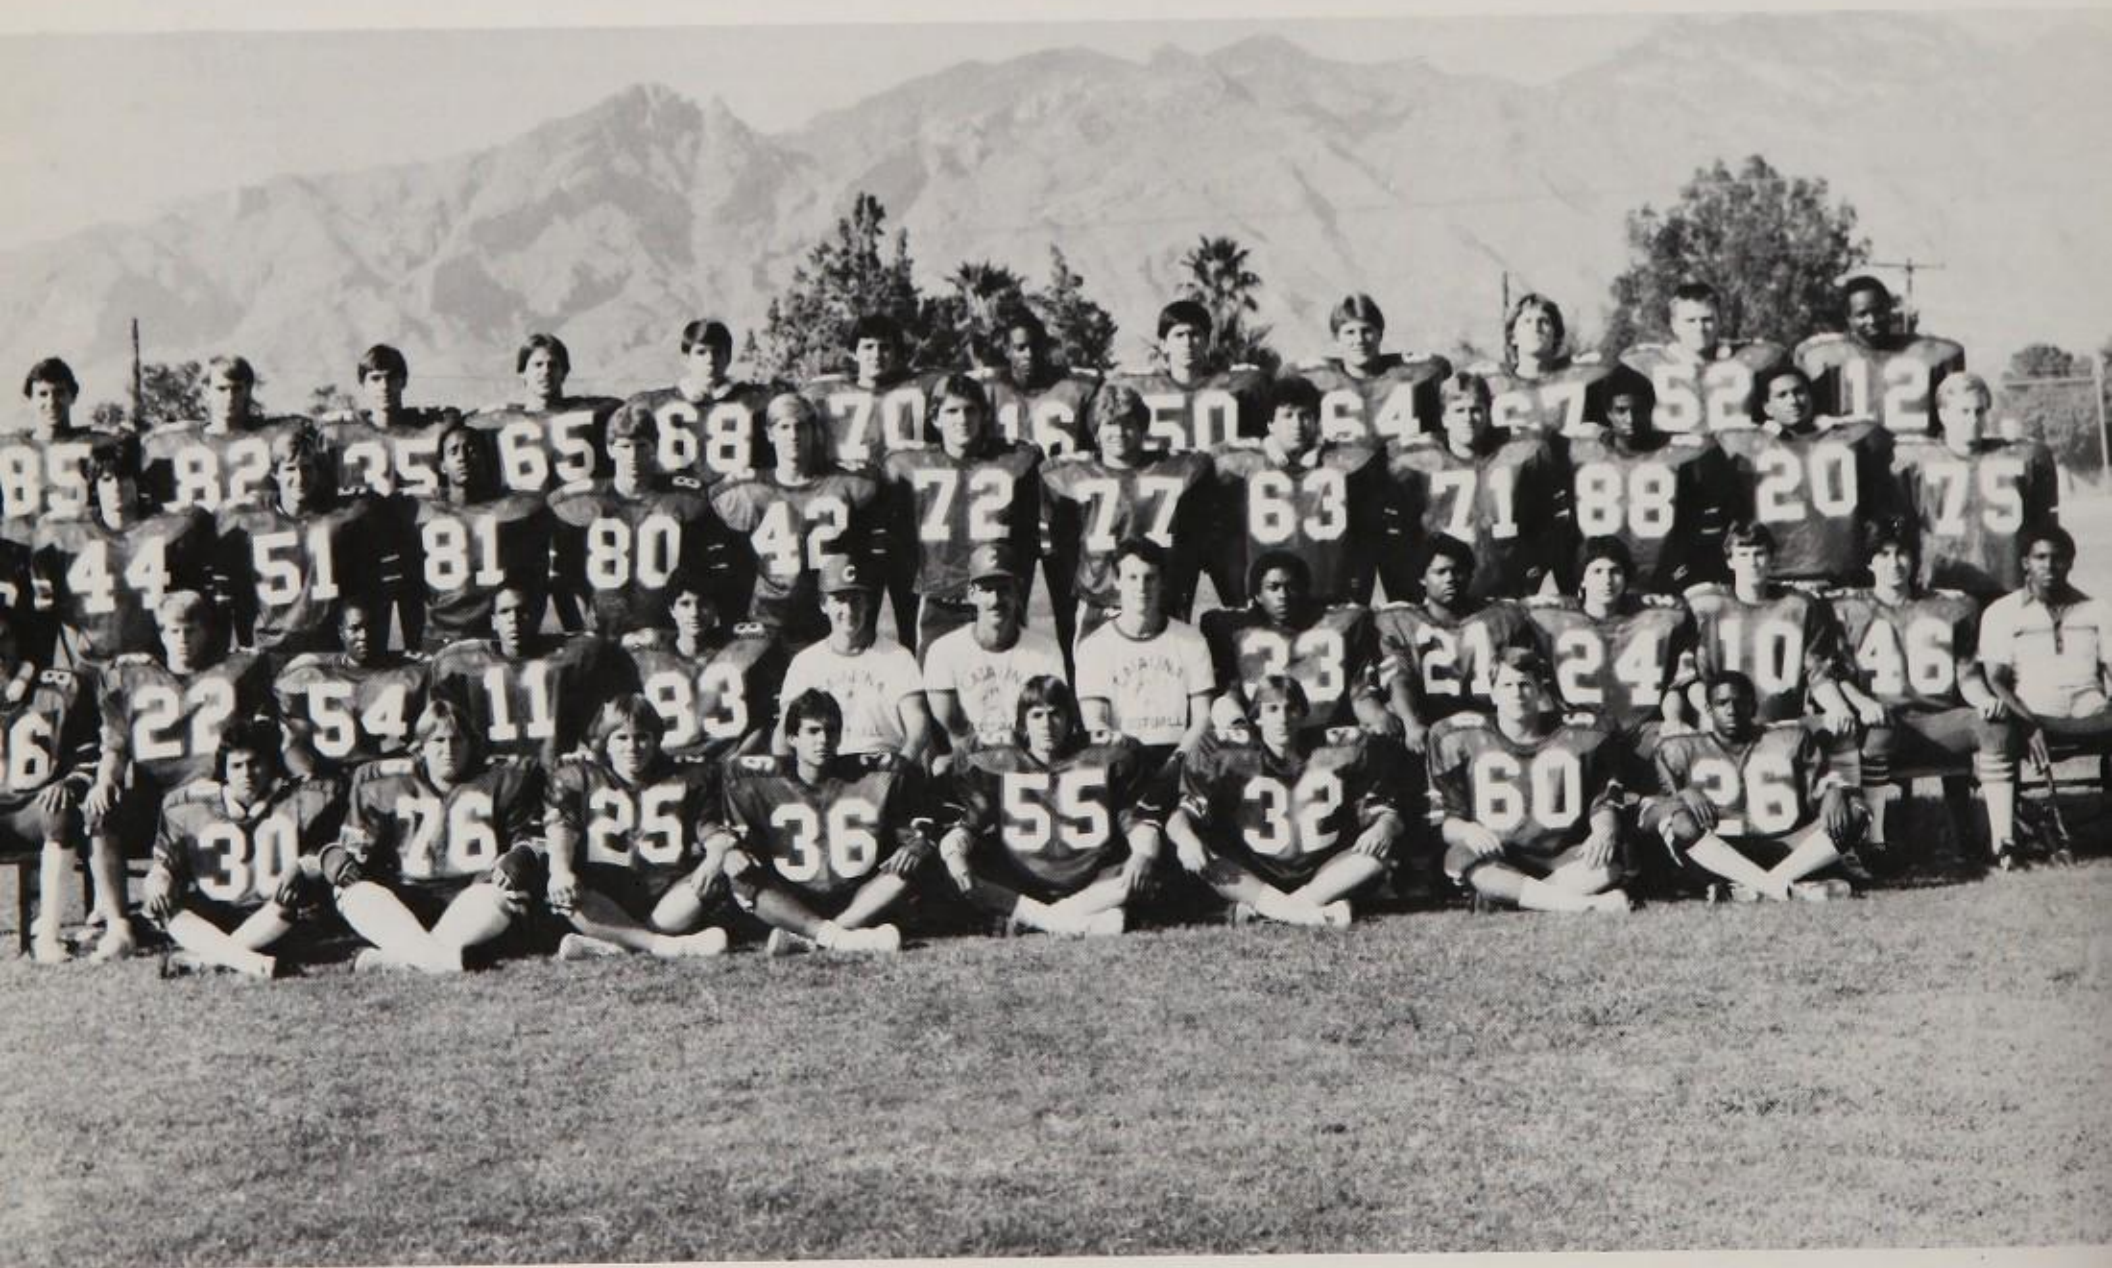

The gridgers ended the season with a slightly improved record from last year's season with a 3-6-1. Had they not been forced to forfeit their 14-0 win over Cholla, the record would have been 4-5-1. They won their first three games against Tuscon, Cholla, and Sunnyside. The squad then lost its next five games, mostly league, and then won and tied its last two against Sabino and Rincon.

This was Tim Burr's first year as head coach. Burr was proud of all the players, stating "I was pleased with the team's attitude for the entire season, whether we won or lost."

TROJANS KICK IN NEW SPORT

The Catalina Boys Soccer Team finished the season with a 9-2 record under exchange teacher/coach James Murray from Edinburgh, Scotland.

The successful season began with a 3-0 victory over Palo Verde. The kickers had five more wins before the Christmas break. They were Cholla 3-0, Santa Rita 2-1, Amphi 6-0, Sabino 3-0 and Sahuaro 2-1. After the holidays they took two more matches from CDO 4-0 and Flowing Wells 2-0 before suffering their first defeat of the season against Salpointe 2-3. Back on the right track again at Rincon they won 3-2 in the final regular season game.

Many honors were won during the season including the following: Top Scorers Cezar Lopez 10, Ken Mayer 6, and Bastien Moekli. Player of the Year - David Cosgrove. Team Captain Mark Dominice and Ken Meyer made first team all city selections. Marcy Aguilar and Cezar Lopez were selected to the second team. Coach Murray was the second team coach.

The Trojan Kickers finished second in the North League behind leader Salpointe and thereby qualified for the playoffs.

After going all the way to the semi-final round, they were finally defeated by Tucson 3-1 eliminating CHS as one of the tournament favorites.

Hard Work Pays Off

Placing third in the state semifinals and second in the Southern Division, the varsity softball team finished the season with an overall record of 17-10.

Although the Batgirls experienced a successful season, Coach Jeff Lovin stated that their two most difficult games were losing to Sahuaro in extra innings in Divisionals with a final score of 3-2, and also losing to Yuma in extra innings at state with a close score of 4-3.

Lovin attributed their success to the team's hard work and to Coach Valley volunteering. "With an extra coach you can do a lot more," commented Lovin.

According to Cliff Myrick, inexperience led to the J.V. team's 2-10-1 record; however, Myrick acknowledged that "many of the girls improved a great deal during the season."

IT'S NOT JUST A SPORT, IT'S AN ADVENTURE

With the help of top state contenders, the depth of the girls swim team improved over last year.

Santa Rita, Sahuaro, and Amphi gave the girl tankers the most competition, while Salpointe, Amphi, and Sahuaro defeated the boys.

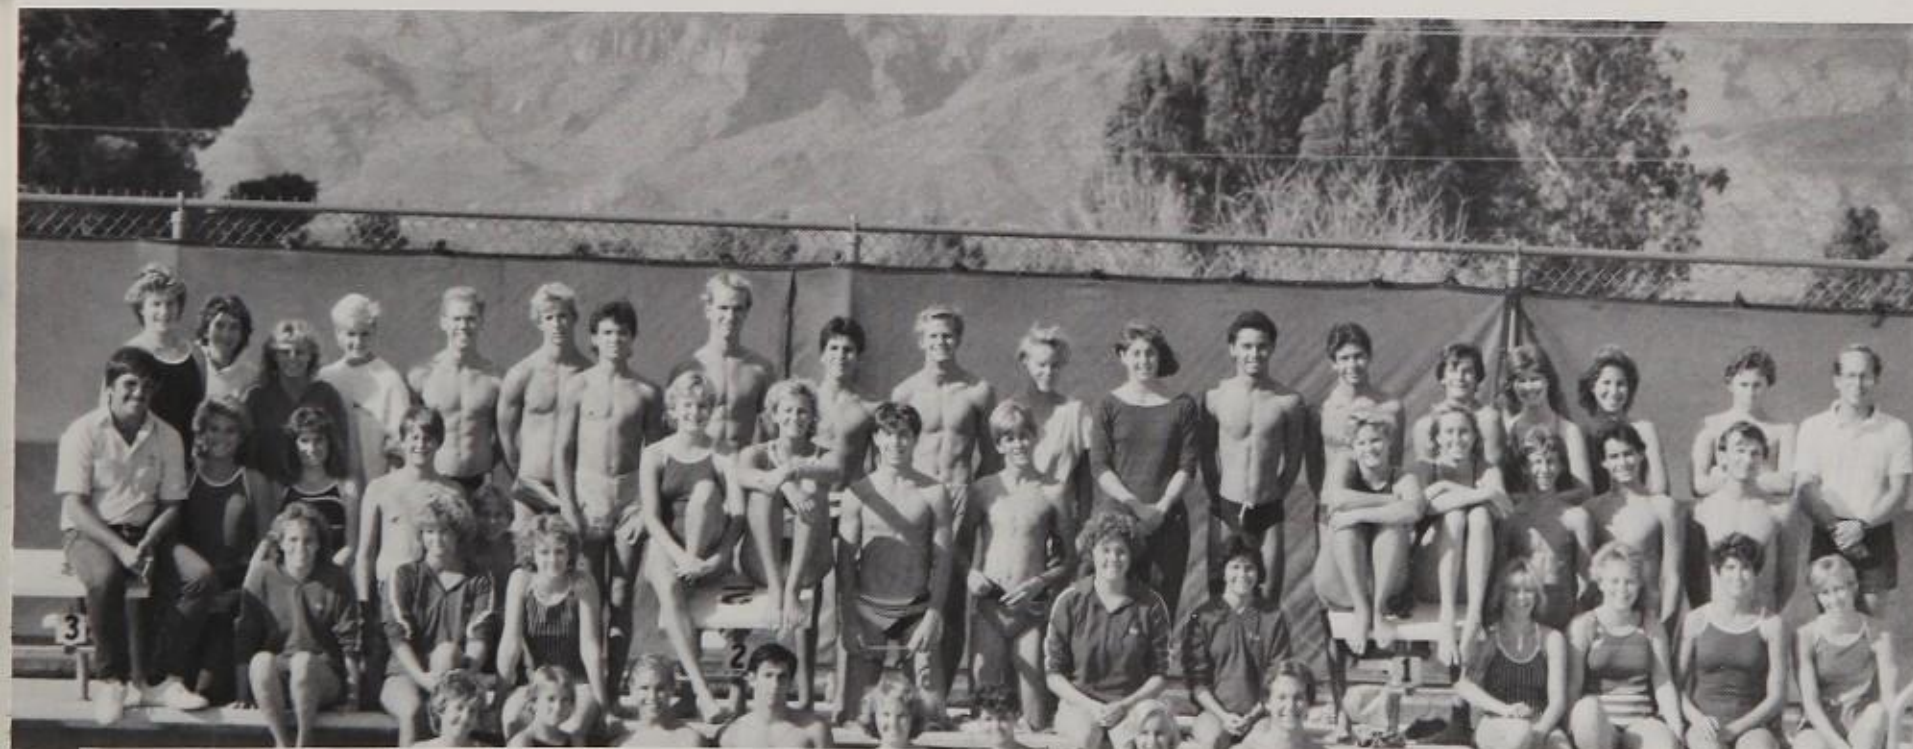

Senior Francie O'Leary and sister Judi, both state champions, returned to lead the tankers to a 7-2 record. Outstanding returners for the boys were Senior Mark McClure and Junior Chris Bockish. Also, new additions Senior Gene Hamner and Freshman David Martinez led the boys to a 6-3 record.

The outlook for city divisionals was bright for both the girl and boy tankers. Girls Coach Mark Schaffer added that "depth this year has really developed," and with the only girl diver, Abbie Warrick, "the team was great." Boys coach Bob Colville commented, "divisionals should be tough, but hopefully the boys should come through."

CAGERS SWOOP TO VICTORY

Starting the season with a 5-4 record, the girl cagers "had the capability to qualify for divisional play offs", according to coach Gerry Lybeck.

One advantage they had were the returning players including Seniors Lisa Schapendonk, Shelly Wade, and Mary Baker, and Juniors Joy Smith, Liza Fisher, and Kim Simas.

With daily two hour practices on the concept and movement without the basketball, Coach Gerry Lybeck hoped the team would improve and qualify for state.

THE NET'S THE LIMIT

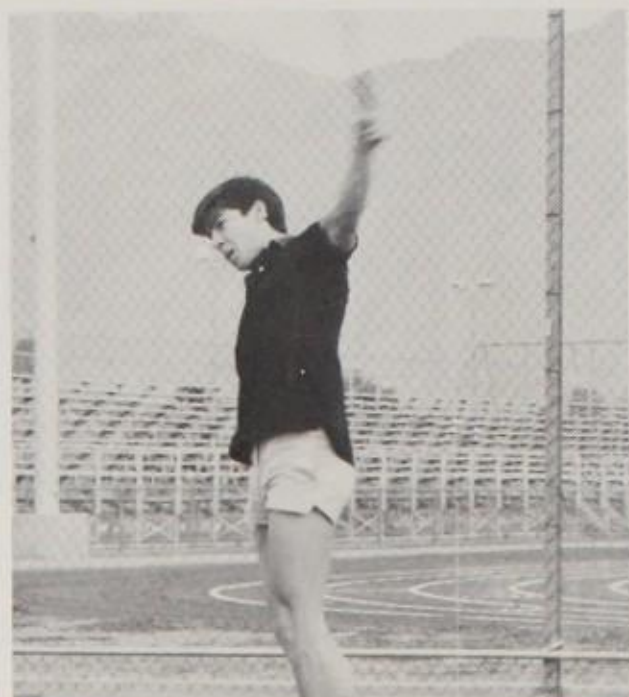

Starting off the season with a 6-2 record, the boys varsity tennis team had high hopes for a successful season.

Under the coaching of Bob Scheuneman, the team had the talent and potential to do well in divisionals. The top players on the team, including 3 year varsity team member junior Brett Doran, sophomore Matt Meister, senior Josh Ricker, and sophomore Richard Coolidge contributed to the team's success. Furthermore, sophomore Scott Evers, senior David Randolph, freshman Ivan Zapan, and junior Roland Wong also helped the team have a winning first half of the season.

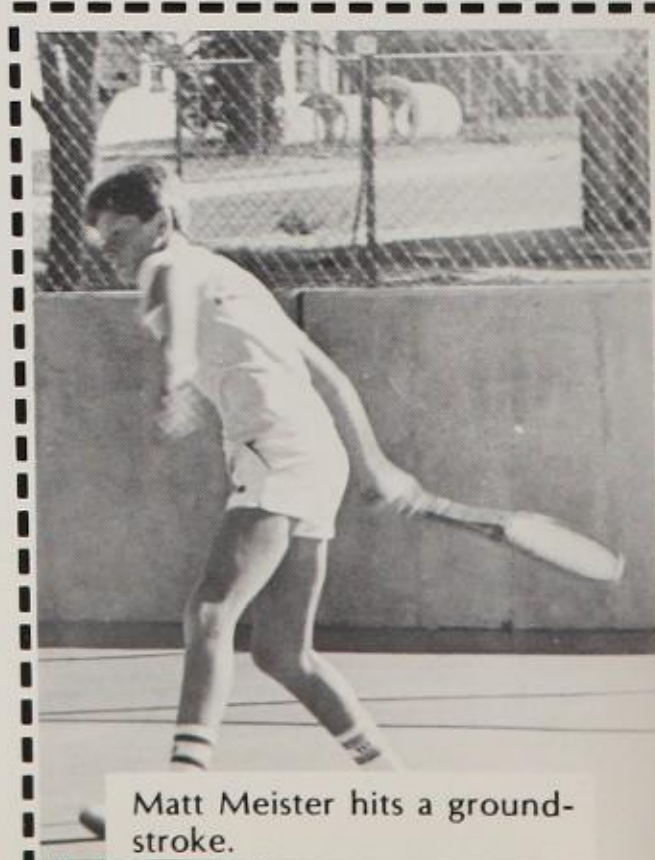

The younger team members also exhibited great enthusiasm and talent. Thus giving Catalina high hopes of another outstanding varsity tennis team.

Their success this season was mostly contributed by the top players on the team which included freshman Kristy Doran, senior Tina Single, junior Debbie Jue, senior Amy Smith, freshman Beth Plunkett, junior Sheryl Danner, senior Pam Coolidge, and junior Mary Thode. THIN CLADS EXCITE FANS

Trojan Trackers were thin in numbers in 1985, but long on excitement.

In a meet at Sahuaro John Raffler set a new high jump record of 6'-5 $\frac{3}{4}$ " eclipsing the old mark of 6'-4 $\frac{1}{2}$ " by Dave Sietsmaer in 1977.

The very next week Pat Hurts took the baton in the anchor leg of the 400 meter relay 200 yds behind the Salpointe runner and blew them off the track at the tape. "This is what track is all about," exclaimed Paul Wallace the sprint coach. "It makes all the hard work and training worthwhile."

On the JV squad distance coach Bob Reynolds was very high on a young sophomore distance runner named Sean Haley who set a new record in the 1600 and the 3200 meter runs for sophomores and competed on the varsity the last half of the season.

HINES RETIRES

After ending an undefeated 19-0 regular season with a disappointing loss to Salpointe 15-12, 10-15, 8-15 in the quarterfinals of divisionals, Coach Hines decided to end her career as Catalina's coach, stating, "I'm going out with the seniors." Ms. Hines, who has coached for 16 years at Catalina amassed an incredible record of 215-27, winning 89% of her matches.

Ms. Hines began teaching volleyball in 1957 when the school first opened with volleyball being only a club sport. She became coach in 1968 when volleyball became a varsity sport.

She had led the Trojan volleyball teams to the North League title ten times, division champion five times, runner-up in state four times and state champion twice.

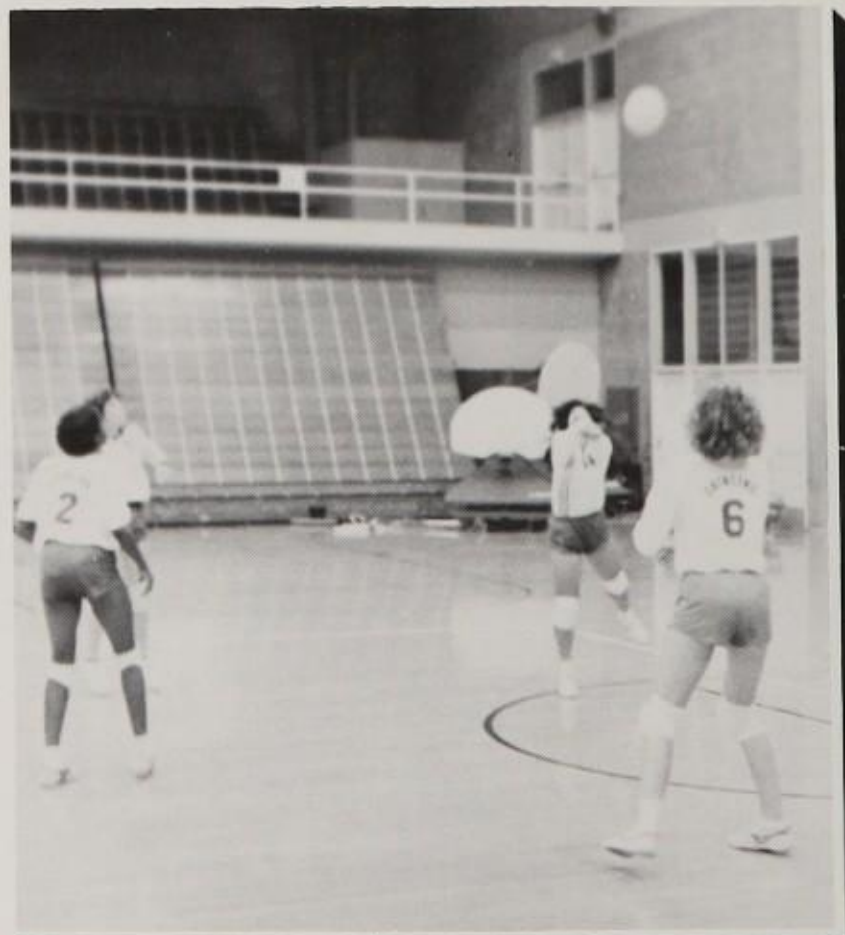

Ms. Hines received The Arizona Daily Star coach of the year honors last year, along with 1978 and 1980.

This year, she won her 200th career match in the North League tournament against C.D.O.

VOLLEYBALL BEST SEASON EVER

Finishing the regular season with a perfect 19-0 record the varsity spikers headed to the divisionals with the best record in Catalina history.

After defeating a much improved Pueblo team in the first round the team suffered their first defeat of the season to Salpointe, thus ending the season. The team was led by Senior co-captains Linda Poore and Stacy Engel, returning starters from last years state championship team. Both Poore and Engel were selected to the Arizona Daily Star all-metro first team. Senior Linda Poore stated, "the reason we were so successful was that we worked well as a team." Senior Stacy Engel attributed Coach Hines for their great success, "She knows how to motivate us to work for her. She knows more about volleyball than most other high school coaches."

Ending the season with an 8-4 record, the J.V. Spikers were successful even though they only had one returning player.

The team was led by sophomore setter Jane Feckner, the only returning player, and freshman Kim Larson. Having problems getting a steady starting line-up the team was forced to play with a different six almost every game. Coach Juanita Kingston, however, found this to be a strength. "The teams ability to work together with whoever was on the court at the time was the team's main strength," stated Kingston. According to Coach Kingston the J.V. team was a super group and did an excellent job considering that they only had one returner. Freshman Beth Plunkett also proved to be a bonus to the team as she developed as the season progressed.

JUNIOR VARSITY AND FROSH WRESTLING ON THE MAT

Not faring as well as the varsity team the J.V. and frosh teams faced the season with the idea of gaining valuable experience to be used to build a strong varsity team in the future.

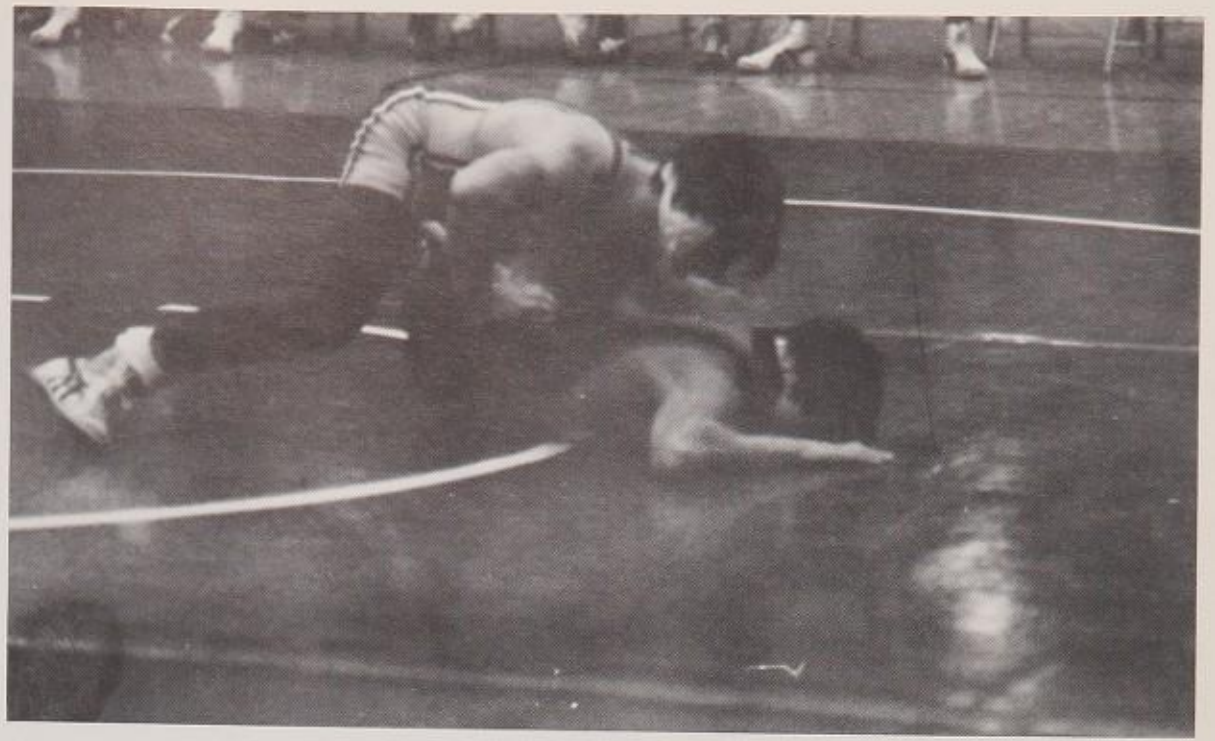

Plagued by injuries and wrestlers quitting the J.V. and frosh teams could not fill all of the weight classes making it difficult for them to win dual-meet matches. Both teams ended the season with 2-7-1 records. Despite the team record individual wrestlers were successful such as Shawn Rickets and Wayne Acton who led the frosh team with a 5-5-0 and 5-2-0 records respectively. The J.V. team was led by Terry Biehl 5-0-1 and Ruben Huerta 7-1-0. The Frosh team was coached by Catalina grad Herb Oxnam who volunteered his free time to help out new assistant coach Mike Marr so he could devote more time to help coach Tom Gutierrez coach the varsity team.

Being on J.V. did not mean the wrestlers did not work as hard as the Varsity wrestlers. Because they had to work twice as hard to make a varsity position. As summed up by junior Zak Jurie, "Facing the challenge of wrestle-offs every week gave me the confidence needed to be a tough wrestler."

Senior Tina Single started drawing as a child and it has since developed into her favorite hobby, consuming about four hours per day.

In three years of competition in the yearly Scholastic Art Show she has won three blue ribbons, two cash prizes, five gold keys, a Hallmark Nomination, a scholarship, and two honorable mentions in National competitions. Single entered two major pencil drawings to the show this year.

Last summer students sat in front of their television sets watching athletes from around the world compete in the XXIII Olympiad held in Los Angeles.

On the other hand, more fortunate people were able to view the events in person. For instance, English Teacher Frances Curtis, who ordered the tickets almost a year before the Summer Olympics were to take place exclaimed, 'The Olympics were truly the most exciting spectacle that I ever hope to see in my life.'

Even though the Eastern block countries boycotted the 1984 Summer Olympics, the games were still successful as the United States dominated the events. For example, the mens' gymnastics team won the all-around gold medal; furthermore, the women gymnasts' gained a silver medal. Curtis also stated, "Every event was different, yet each kept the theme of the Olympics."

In Pursuit Of Trivia

During the past year, a new trend in entertainment that became increasingly popular was the new game called Trivial Pursuit.

The object of Trivial Pursuit was to move around the circular board, answering questions from six different categories, including geography, entertainment, history, art and literature, science and nature, and sports and leisure. The popularity of this game inspired a rash of games based on trivia. In addition to the several supplementary card sets for Trivial Pursuit that deal with one specific subject like Sports or the Baby Boom Generation, other games such as People Magazine's Trivia Game were produced to compete in the market with Trivial Pursuit. Overall, this game boosted the game-making market and was easily the best-selling Christmas present this year.

Officers Organize Activities

The senior class organized numerous activities in order to benefit the seniors as well as the entire student body under the leadership of President Josh Ricker, Vice president Eric Thomas, and Secretary Julie Waterfall.

The class officers planned events such as the senior trip, the after prom, spirit week, the homecoming dance and assembly, a litter campaign in which all classes took part. The options considered for the senior trip were Hawaii, California, and Mexico. As of January, the trip was planned for San Diego from June 6-11 which cost $182.

The class also reinstated Senior Capers, a talent show spoof at the end of the year. The officers designed the graduation announcements for the senior class. In addition, they decided what gift the senior class would present to the school upon graduation.

Indira Gandhi, Prime Minister of India for over 20 years, was assassinated on October 31 by two Sikh security guards. Gandhi was immediately rushed to the All India Institute of Medical Sciences where she died five hours later. Her son, Rajiv, immediately filled her position. Several doctors discovered that Gandhi was shot in the heart, abdomen, and thigh possibly as many as 16 times.

Gandhi had been heavily guarded for months because of the assassination threats from Sikhs as a result of the army assault at the scene of the shooting after Sikhs claimed they had taken their revenge.

Gandhi was born on November 19, 1917 in Anand Bhavan. She was the only child of Kamala and Jawaharlal Nehru, who was the prime minister of India the first 17 years after receiving independence from Britain.

Going through the south part of town, students saw erotic drawings on the walls, overlapped by the graffiti of the latest breaking crews.

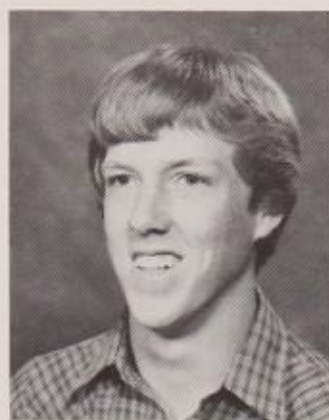

Also, visible were kids "popping" on each other, "throwing violent waves," and a group of people stood on opposite sides of each other, snapped their fingers in a syncopated beat, and delivered rhythmic stories about current events or themselves. These were known as "rappers" and the most popular group was the "CASANOVA PLAYERS".

The Casanovas consisted of three rappers: Don Payne (Don Juan), Calvin Arthur (Casper), and the founder of the group, Pat Hurts (P-Sir Cas). The group originated in the members' Sophomore year because "rappin was becoming popular and still is," Hurts stated.

Another senior, Mark Smith, creator of "Rappin Unity," and former member of the Casanova Players noted, "They are alright but eventually we will be just as live as they are." The Casanova Players are a very talented group.

Statue Restored

The Statue of Liberty, given to the United States by France in 1886, closed for repair before the Centennial. Sponsored by major companies and donations, the statue received needed reconstruction by the National Park Service after weather conditions such as salt air, acid rain, and pollution ravaged it.

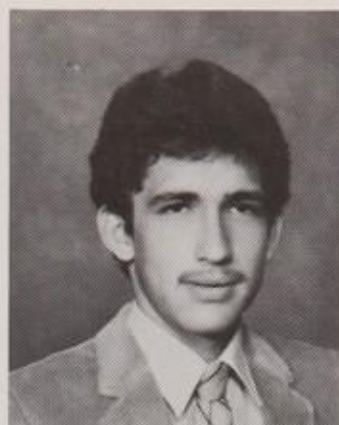

Specifically, the iron frame work weakened by corrosion and the copper skin marked with holes needed repairs. The worst damage had been in the torch section, closed to visitors for over 65 years. Sponsors including Kodak, Kellogg's, Oscar Mayer, Avon, and American Airlines helped the National Park Service raise the $25 million dollars needed for repairs on the statue and another $230 million to restore buildings on Ellis Island.

In its history, some 17 million immigrants have used the island for debarkment. In fact, more than half of all Americans had ancestors who landed there.

State Title Possible For Senior Wrestler

For his fourth year on the varsity wrestling squad, Senior Mike Schmieder hoped to place first in the state competition for his weight class.

Competing at 121 pounds, Schmieder acknowledged, "I can't remember when I didn't wrestle." In third grade he first competed in a match and won.

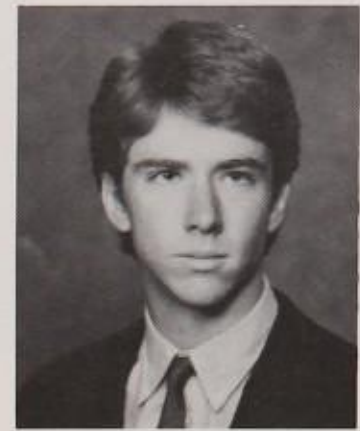

Last year, Schmieder placed second in both divisionals and state. Also, he won the Danny Villa Memorial Award at a TUSD tournament and was deemed Catalina's most valuable wrestler for the second year.

In what he considered his biggest tournament, the Southwest U.S. Divisionals, Schmieder placed fourth for his weight. He competed against wrestlers from New Mexico, Nevada, California, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, and parts of Washington.

One of the most respected and admired actors of all time died last August of a cerebral hemorrhage at the age of 58.

Richard Burton, who twenty years ago was the highest paid actor in the world, received seven academy award nominations for his lead roles in films such as "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"; "Becket", and "The Spy Who Came in from the Cold."

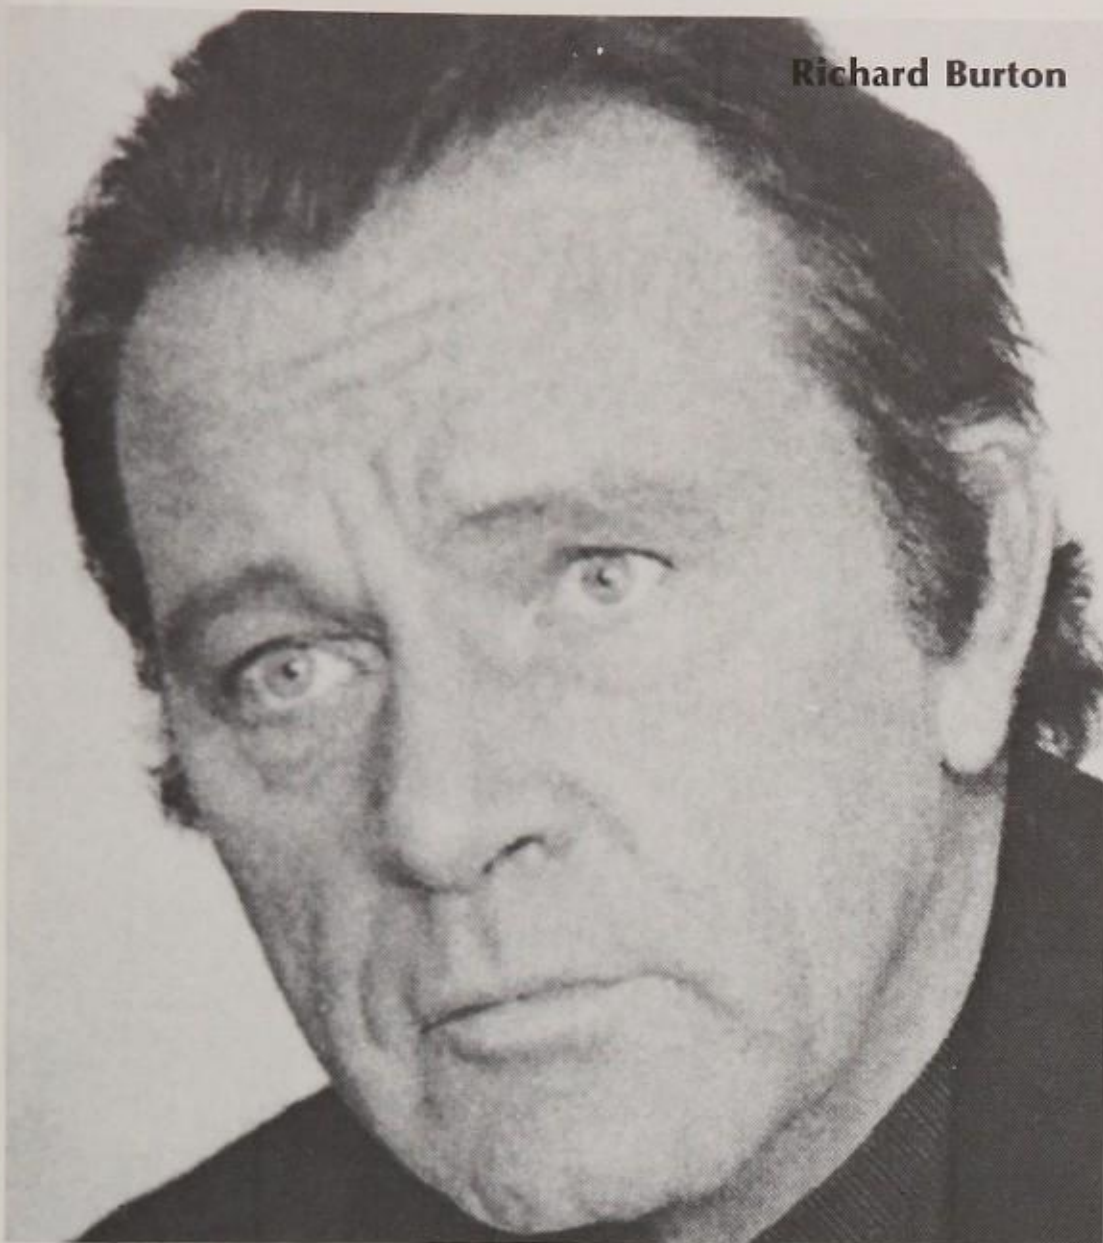

Burton's ambition to become an actor was fulfilled with the help of Philip Burton, a drama and literature teacher who became young Burton's legal guardian when he was a teenager. Burton became an international star in 1960 when he appeared as King Arthur in the famous play "Camelot."

Shortly after their combined appearances in "Cleopatra," Elizabeth Taylor and Burton were married for the first time. This film couple did make a few good movies, such as "The Taming of the Shrew," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and "The V.I.P.'s."

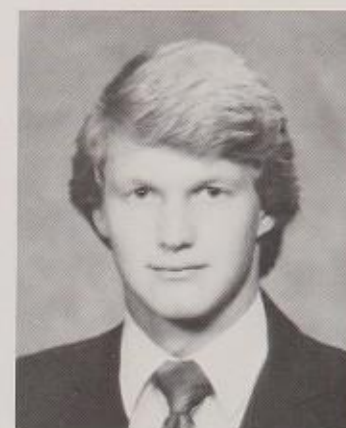

Taylor divorced Burton for the first time in 1974 because of Burton's severe drinking problem. They remarried again fourteen months later, but a second divorce soon followed. Including his two marriages to Taylor, Burton was married a total of five times. Despite his personal problems, Burton was a natural born actor who was easily considered one of the greatest actors of his time.

O'Leary Looks Forward To High School Season

After training hard all summer, junior Judi O'Leary looked forward to the high school season.

Following a disappointing National Junior Olympics (NJO) O'Leary took the last week of summer off. She stated, "I just wanted to get my mind off of swimming, I wanted to enjoy my last week of summer."

Along with seniors Francie O'Leary, Angie Garcia, and sophomore Amy Warrick, the medley relay placed second in state. O'Leary also took first in the 100 yard backstroke with a personal best of 1:00:3, and second in the 200 individual medley.

O'Leary is still undecided on which college she would like to attend.

The sophomore class officers were President Shannon Ferguson, Vice-President Scott Evers, and Secretary Josette Miko.

The officers were enthusiastic about the fund raisers that the class held which included a car wash and a candy sale. Miko hoped, "that next years class would remain optimistic throughout the school year and become involved in all of next years planned activities."

EARLY START HELPS LOPEZ

Cezar Lopez started playing soccer when he was eight years old. Since then, his skills and talents have become unlimited.

Coach Jim Murray stated that he "hadn't seen such ball control in a high school student before." Lopez, only a sophomore, was ranked in the top five for scoring and assisting. As this is the first year for soccer, Lopez and the rest of the boys team proved that a little hard work and dedication pays off in compiling a 9-1 win loss record.

Frosh Officers start strong

With their main responsibility for the year being building the Freshman float, Freshman Kristy Doran, Becky Vidal and Beth Plunkett were elected as their class officers.

President Kristy Doran commented, "The Freshman class has alot of spirit. Whenever we have planned meetings there has always been high attendance and the students were willing to devote time to our projects. I am pleased with the class of '88." The only obligations the Freshman class were to build the Homecoming float and to help the rest of student council with assemblies and with raising school spirit.

First Day Blues

The first day of the year was always the hardest. You saw a lot of people walking around looking like lost sheep trying to find classrooms, lockers, or just a familiar face. After the first week or two, we finally got used to everything. We started making friends and then we began to relax. High School really wasn't as bad as we thought it would be.

Susan Wayne, a freshman Catalina, died in a sledding accident in California on December 24, 1984.

Among the many close friends she had was her sister, sophomore Lisa Wayne, who was more than just a sister to her. Her friends found Susan to be forgiving and sensitive person who did not hold grudges. She enjoyed participating in many activities including horseback riding in which she won several trophies. Sophomore Carol Kempel recalled, "Susan's cheerful smile and disposition always made people feel comfortable around her and her friendship will be greatly missed."

CATALINA HIGH SCHOOL

KEEP THE TORCH LIT

In order to produce a quality yearbook, many motivated people and a lot of hard work are necessary to complete the task. I would like to thank all those involved in this effort.

First of all, this year's TORCH would not have been produced without the 1984-85 staff and photographers who spent many hours in class, after school, at night, and our workdays, when most other students were out having fun.

Next, I would like to thank our advisor Bob Reynolds, who in his first year at Catalina accepted the opportunity to pursue the making of a yearbook. In addition, I appreciate the time and effort Phil Dering from Jostens put in to push us to finish this yearbook. I would like to thank National School Studies, Ray Manley, and Larry Lurie for their photography work.

Finally, I wish to express my gratitude towards my associate editors Pam Coolidge and Eden Tretschok who were always there behind me to support me in my job as Editor-in-Chief.

I hope that all involved in the production of this yearbook feel proud and that they have gained something that will help them in the future.

*Thank you,
Deborah Soehl
